In spite of showers which lasted through last evening, as well, in fact, as during the greater part of the day, in their effort to lend at least some sort of "wet opposition" to the Lyon revival campaign, the meetings yesterday proved highly successful. They were three in number and the gospel message was carried to upwards of six thousand persons during the day, and as a result there is certainly greater respect for the methods of evangelism than has ever before been shown in the city. A man of culture, not addicted to the blatant, boisterous bombast of many of the present day "would-be revivalists," Dr. Lyon, the leader in the series, has already endeavored himself to those with whom he has come in contact and has been pledged the loyal support of Newark's best Christian workers.

The most important service of the day was no doubt that of last evening, which attracted a fairly large number of non-churchgoers, one of whom was heard to remark that he "hadn't heard a sermon for five years." It is certain that the individual in question received material on his return to the fold that will make him think deeper into the merit of his living. What the outcome will be is a matter of conjecture, but it is also certain that if Dr. Lyon gets sufficient chance to reach into the lives of this and other men of his kind, Newark churches are going to reap the harvest for which they have been preparing.

Learn the "Glorious Song." And how that "Glorious Song" did ring out last night—especially the chorus when sung by the hundred little boys and girls who filled the front seats. There's something about a child's singing that makes for a larger faith, for somehow they seem just a step nearer their Maker than we of greater worldly experience and capable of throwing an almost unintelligible personality, from our standpoint, into their hymns of praise and glory. The big chorus choir gave a number of selections, directed by Prof. Mitchell, and the congregation found intense satisfaction in aiding in the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Rock of Ages." Nor was the special music for the evening forgotten. "Fear Not, O Israel," a splendid oratorio number by Prof. Mitchell, how a message of faith and redemption in the most capable manner of the artist of the Lyon campaign, and there was many a thoughtful face and evidence of appreciation when Mrs. Powell rendered "His eye is on the sparrow, and I know he cares for me," one of the songs that was popular in the building of the Kingdom during services of 25 years ago but which has fallen into a very respectable disuse during recent years.

Do you know what the value of a human soul is? No? Well there were many who had not given the matter much thought until Dr. Lyon discussed every phase of the question spiritually and otherwise during his evening sermon. Taking his text from Luke 15:10, "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth," the revivalist planted the seed of an appreciation that cannot fail to work for the good of Newark.

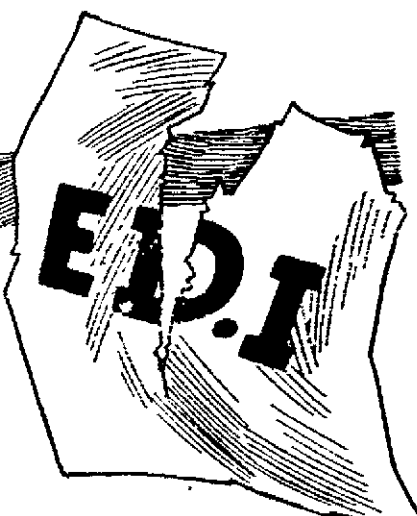

"Difference in standards of value," he declared. "What a man considers of greater and lesser importance is a key to his character. And so, effort is proportionate to appreciation of value. No man or woman in these meetings is going to sacrifice any of their substance and strength until they have been gripped by the great truth that a human soul is the greatest of God's treasures."

The Soul's True Value. "It is strange that man has been foremost in the depreciation of the value of the soul," continued Dr. Lyon. "He has done it by subjecting it to conquest and to personal ambition. We have subjected man to machines; that man was made for the state and not the state for man is seldom considered; men are used as material with which to build up lodges, clubs, fraternities, and churches, sometimes, much the same as bricks are used in erecting a building. As a nation we're money-mad; men are subjected to a great greed for more money. Politically we're in the dark ages, trying to put more money and pour into our coffers. We're worshipping the golden calf, just as they did in the time of Moses. In the great Civil War men were drafted, but they begged to get more money—they couldn't draft the money."

Dr. Lyon proved himself an optimist, however, in his belief that the words of the prophet would some day come true and that God would "make a man of more value than much fine gold." "The dry rot and atheism of our modern civilization is that we are caring more for gold than for God. More people are interested in making a living than in making a life. No matter how dangerous a task may be, or how dirty it is, if the pay is high enough, there are always plenty of people ready to jump into the breach and sacrifice themselves."

Toss Away That Pill. "Men are simply animals—often lower than animals. We could call a man a dog and then feel like apologizing—to the dog. You couldn't get a dog to put a hat on the side of its head and go up street smoking a cigarette.

"You couldn't get a dog to go into a booze-joint, put both paws up on the bar and soak up a lot of rot-gut whiskey. A man and a dog can go into a saloon and pretty soon the man will go rolling and reeling about but the dog could come out of such a place—like a gentleman. Oh, friends, many a young man will blast and damn his young life simply for the sake of an appetite and that a night's desire for enjoyment might be filled."

God has been trying all through the ages, the speaker declares, to show his value of a human soul. The earthly riches, the mountains, the valleys, the rivers and lakes, the flowers, the trees—everything has but one reason for its existence—the benefit of man. Consider the great mechanism of our bodies! And if the bodies are great, how much greater are our minds, for no mind has ever been developed to its fullest capacity.

"God also showed his valuation of a human soul by the gift of His own son. In the incarnation of Jesus—when God came down to earth to live in human form with his children for a while, He set for all time His appreciation of a soul's value. The works of Jesus show the valuation of a soul! He would go out in the early morning, along the highways and byways, healing the sick, comforting the afflicted, helping the needy—yes, putting His great, strong arms under the entire edifice of human society and lifting up the entire structure."

For a Greater Vision. A few days ago related the speaker, a certain gentleman said: "I do hope Mr. So-and-so is converted. He has nearly half a million dollars, and it would be nice to have him converted." The revivalist plainly showed his scorn of such a reason for conversion. "Just as if there was anyone in this community who was not worthy to be saved. Oh, that we could see all lives as Jesus sees (Continued on page 2, col. 1.)

ALLEN AND EDWARDS ARE ARRAIGNED

Hillsville, Va., Sept. 23.—Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the mountain gun men, were arraigned today in the same court room where on March 14 the lives of five persons were snuffed out. The cases will be tried at Wytheville where two of the clan were sentenced to die and others got long term sentences. Edwards will be tried October 25 for the murder of Commonwealth Attorney Foster. Allen is charged with the murder of Judge Massie and his trial will start at the conclusion of Edwards'.

TEDDY SPEAKS 'IN MISSOURI'

Pittsburg, Kan., Sept. 23.—After his rest in Emporia yesterday, Col. Roosevelt made his first speech today at Pittsburg after a stop at Arcadia. The rest of the day is to be spent in Missouri. Col. Roosevelt's transcontinental tour is nearing its close. From Missouri he will go to Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina, reaching there October 2. After a short rest he will make a week's trip into the midwest.

SCHOOL KIDS OF NEW YORK START A HEALTHY RIOT

New York, Sept. 23.—Police reserves were called out today to quell a riot of 1500 public school boys who took this means of protest against the transfer of their principals. Pupils of two schools were involved and for a short time they smashed windows, routed the janitors with a shower of vegetables and terrorized the neighbors. The pupils paraded the streets and prevented children who did not join in the strike from entering the school building.

HEALTH BOARDS TO MEET OCT. 24

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Dr. E. F. Campbell, secretary of the state board of health, today announced that the 34th annual convention of Ohio boards of health will be held in Columbus Oct. 24 and 25. Modern methods of fighting disease will be the principal topic for discussion.

DOG AND OWNER SHOT BY MOORE

Mansfield, Sept. 23.—A quarrel over the shooting of a dog resulted today in a shooting affray in which Ed. Burgraff, 20, was shot by Garnet Moore, 27, both farmers. A week ago Moore shot Burgraff's dog. Today the latter went to Moore's farm to get the dog's collar. The quarrel followed.

MACON BUSINESS MEN WAGE CAMPAIGN TO HAVE GEORGIA'S CAPITAL REMOVED TO THEIR CITY; URGE VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

Macon "Boosters" at Ashburn, Ga.

For two years the people of Macon have been fighting for the removal of Georgia's capital from Atlanta to their city. They have recently instituted a state-wide campaign, and will urge the legislature at its next session to put the question of the capital's removal to a popular vote.

In the accompanying photograph are seen some of Macon's "Boosters," who recently toured the state one hundred strong in a special train, telling the people why Macon rather than Atlanta should have the capital. The "Boosters" are said to have made a splendid impression upon the people, especially in southern Georgia, where sentiment favors Macon strongly.

GOV. WILSON TO SPEAK TONIGHT AT SCRANTON, PA.

Scranton, N. J., Sept. 23.—Governor Wilson will open the Pennsylvania campaign at Scranton tonight. The nominees of the Pennsylvania state ticket will be officially notified of their selection on the same occasion.

FORMER NEWARKITE RECEIVES PATENT ON HIS INVENTION

Will Save Millions of Dollars for Steel Corporation by Which He is Employed.

James A. Jones, a former Newark man, but now master mechanic of the Bessemer Steel Works of the Illinois Steel company, and residing at 7890 Bond avenue, South Chicago, is the inventor of a mold-drying apparatus that promises to save millions of dollars for the great steel corporation.

A patent for the invention has been granted and is briefly reported in a recent issue of the South Chicago Daily Calumet.

"The machine is pronounced superior to any other on the market," the report reads. "At the South Works, where the ingot mold drying machine has been in successful operation for some time, two men do the work formerly requiring the service of twenty-five, and several thousand dollars are saved in the rail mill as the result of the lessening of seconds each time the mill is started."

"The burner is also used to heat metal in the mixer and to heat steel vessels preparatory for use. It is also in use in the machine shop, foundry, open hearth furnaces and has been found to be especially advantageous for use in the pipe shops."

Mr. Jones commenced his career in 1879 at the B. & O. shops in this city, working in the various mechanical departments until 1890, when he accepted an important post with the great South Chicago mills.

MAN FELL UNDER WHEELS OF TRAIN

Allentown, O., Sept. 23.—Crane Hays, 70, of Rochester, Pa., attempted to board a Pennsylvania train today and fell under the wheels. He was instantly killed.

GEN. U. S. GRANT'S SON A SUPPORTER OF GOV. WILSON

New York, Sept. 23.—Jesse R. Grant, as appointed a member of the Finance Committee of the New York Democratic State Committee.

Mr. Grant, who is a son of President Grant, is one of the most enthusiastic supporters of Governor Wilson. "I am going to do all in my power to bring around the election of Governor Wilson," said Mr. Grant. "I know of no one better equipped to grace the White House than Governor Wilson. His views on the tariff are appealing to the substantial and sensible business men of the country. I think he is going to receive the greatest number of Republican votes ever given to a Democratic candidate for office. He is not only going to draw from Roosevelt's following and thus may sound like a remarkable statement, but I believe it is true, but he is also going to decrease the ranks of the old line

Republicans until they will present on election day a mighty weak and battered line.

"If Governor Wilson is to lose any Democratic votes I have yet to hear of the fact. The independent voter is in favor of him and in view of all this I do not see the slightest chance for any of the other candidates to even give him a close race."

"In this campaign I am convinced that Governor Wilson is going to gain ground every day, rather than lose. My reason for stating this is that the people are becoming better acquainted with him and we are learning of the earnestness of the man and his high type of citizenship and his marvelous personality. I would not undertake to predict what will be the fate of the Republican party after this election, but I am convinced that it will never be swallowed up by the followers of Col. Roosevelt."

115 DROWN WHEN BOAT GOES DOWN

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—The steamer Ozark was sunk in collision in the River Dvina today. One hundred and fifteen drowned.

Terrible scenes followed the accident. The people on board the steamer were panic stricken and fought like fiends for life preservers. Cries for help mingled with curses, groans and prayers were heard as the boat sank. Scores, who were able to don life preservers, were rescued, while others fought in the water for a hand-hold on a piece of floating wreckage. Many of the drowned had jumped from the steamer as it sank and went down to their deaths only after a long fight for life.

STANDARD NEVER DISSOLVED IS THE ALLEGATION

New York, Sept. 23.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is still assigning sales authority to oil refiners of its former subsidiary companies outside of its own territory, according to the testimony given today at the hearings of the Waters-Pierce-Standard Oil litigation.

Kenneth Adams, assignment clerk of the New Jersey company, so testified when asked a series of questions by counsel for the Waters-Pierce Company in line with the latter's contention that there is no real competition among the various Standard Oil companies.

AUTO ROBBERS GET $800 FROM NEW YORK MAN

New York, Sept. 23.—Two highway-men in a red touring car held up John Popper, manufacturer on the street, opposite his place of business, on West 17th street today and robbed him of a valise containing $800 in cash and $100 in checks, half a hundred postcards and a policeman who witnessed the holdup, pursued the auto and were fired upon three times by the highwaymen. No one got the license number. Popper was on his way to a bank when robbed.

SPEAKERS OF NATIONAL NOTE IN OHIO FIGHT

Columbus, Sept. 23.—The campaign speaking itinerary of Congressman James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for governor, will be announced tomorrow, when Mr. Cox and Chairman W. L. Finley arrive from Chicago, where they went to secure speakers of national prominence for the Ohio campaign. Congressman Cox will begin a tour this week which will not be completed until a day or two before the election.

General R. B. Brown, Republican gubernatorial nominee, will begin his activity with two addresses at Steubenville Thursday, speaking at the county fair in the afternoon and a political mass meeting in the evening.

UNTERMYER HAS CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT TAFT

Washington, Sept. 23.—Samuel Untermyer of New York, counsel for the "House Money Trust" investigating committee and for the Waters-Pierce Company in its fight with the Standard Oil Company, conferred with President Taft at the White House today. Reports that the government was watching developments in the Waters-Pierce suit surrounded the conference with interest.

PROGRESSIVES DID NOT ASK CONSENT OF ATTY. W. L. FLORY

When Informed of Action of Bull Moose Convention of Cuyahoga in Naming Him for Representative, Promptly Resigned.

A few days ago the Advocate published a dispatch from Cleveland to the effect that Walter L. Flory, son of J. A. Flory of this city, had been put on the Cuyahoga county Bull Moose ticket as candidate for representative.

Yesterday Mr. J. A. Flory received a telegram from his son, stating that the action had been taken without his knowledge or consent, and that upon being advised of the action he had at once asked that his name be withdrawn, stating that he had no desire to appear as the candidate.

FREIGHT CAR THIEVES ARE AGAIN BUSY

Some time Sunday night, thieves entered a freight car standing in the railroad yards and stole a quantity of dry goods. Among the merchandise stolen were a number of women's winter coats. A search warrant was issued to authorize the police and railroad officers to search a house along the canal, near Sixth street, but the officers failed to find any of the stolen goods in the place. The investigation will be continued.

DELEGATES ARRIVE FOR CONGRESS

Fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce

SIXTEEN LANGUAGES

Used in Preparing Program Which Will be Carried Out at Boston. This Week.

Boston, Sept. 23.—Commercial, industrial, judicial and civic subjects of far reaching interest will be discussed by delegates from all parts of the world who will assemble in Boston this week for the sessions of the Fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce. Forty foreign countries, including Russia and several Central and South American republics never before represented will have a part in the congress. Several hundred delegates of national and international prominence, and nearly all leaders in the commercial life of their home cities, will attend. Programs for their use have been prepared in sixteen languages and notes taken on all discussions will be transcribed in many tongues.

The first three days of the congress, which will open Tuesday, and continue through Saturday, will be devoted to business; the latter part of the week to local sight-seeing, after which a tour to nearly a score of cities will be begun. Charles Nagel, secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, will represent the United States on the opening day and will deliver an address of welcome and on Thursday evening President Taft will be the speaker at the congress banquet.

The establishment of a fixed day for Easter, previously discussed by the congress, will be among the matters considered. The congress at Milan, in 1906, disclosed a wide range of opinion on the subject. The commercial bearings of the mobility of certain holidays will be resorted to and more definite views on long agitated calendar reforms will be heard.

Especially interest is indicated in the proposition for a calendar year of precisely equal divisions and subdivisions, with each day of the month always the same day of the week, made possible by establishing New Years as a day outside the regular cycle of dates, and the following day as January 1st.

These subjects will be presented in a communication from Louis Canon-LeGrande of Mons, President of the Congress. The cost of living and the desirability of an international conference on the subject will be advanced in a report by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University. Other subjects for consideration include:

The establishment of an international court of arbitral justice for suits between individuals and foreign states; the unification of legislation relating to checks; international postal reforms in view of the next conference of the Universal Postal Union in 1913; commercial statistics and the immediate institution of an international office, the desirability of an international conference upon the validation of through-order-notify bills of lading; and of legislation and other means for making the system more effective; the desirability of international uniformity of action in the matter of consular invoices.

Official recognition was extended to the Boston congress by a resolution of congress. Under this resolution the United States sent invitations to the governments of the world, in addition to the business organizations. Appropriations totaling $150,000 have been made by the state of Massachusetts, the city of Boston, and individuals, for the entertainment of the visitors.

Starting on September 30 the foreign delegates will visit Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Washington and New York. On October 20 the party will sail for home from New York. The first session of the congress was held at Liege, Belgium, in 1905. In 1906 the meeting was at Milan, Italy; in 1908 at Prague, Austria, and in 1910 at London.

The membership includes commercial and industrial organizations of all nations. Delegates to the biennial conventions are of two classes; the official delegates designated by the respective nations, and those appointed by business organizations affiliated with the congress.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the present international congress is held, is said to be the largest commercial organization in America. It has nearly 5,000 members.

TABERNACLE

them—the gambler, the saloon-keeper, the most vicious man in Newark—all are the infinite work of God. "Of how much more value is a man than a sheep," quoted the speaker in continuing. "In Iowa I know of some thoroughbred sheep raisers who get as high as $3000 for a sheep, and here in Ohio, just before election, there are some counties where you can buy a man for a glass of beer—and then be paying more than he's worth."

A Friend of Labor.

The evangelist's views on the labor problems of the day are as positive as they are unique. "I am for the laboring man," he said. "I do not want to bring in any issue between labor and capital, but whenever there is an issue, you will find me on the side of the laboring man. I believe that they have just as much right to organization as their employers. But by no amount of organization can the men of this country get their just rights. Money will outbuy them every time. You can't compete with capital along these lines."

"The only thing that stands between the American people and industrial slavery today is the gospel of Jesus, the son of the living God. There is a thing as the salvation of society. There are some things even stronger than public sentiment, and I am going to preach to the workmen of Newark, not about the sweet by and by, but about the nasty present and not about the heaven they're going to live now."

"Politicians have to follow public sentiment," declared Dr. Lyon, "but the preacher and the revivalist make public sentiment. The biggest thing in Ohio today is not the political campaign, but the fact that there are five great revival services in progress in different parts of the state, winning hundreds of souls into the Kingdom of the Master."

"You get an employer and an employee converted, and what is going to happen? When the jeweled hand of capital and the hard, horny hand of labor unite and are clasped in the pierced hand of Calvary, then and not until then, will the problems of capital and labor be solved."

Lyon Fears the Animals.

Ancient Greek philosophy taught that the superfluous children should be left in the mountains to be devoured by wild beasts. "But," Jesus said, "Suffer them to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And besides," Dr. Lyon facetiously added, "it's a good thing for me that the old philosophy is not practiced nowadays, for I was the youngest of fourteen children."

"How much of our life is spent in foolish things, in small talk, etc.," added the preacher. "Just imagine your feelings if a photograph record were made of all your small talk for the next six weeks and you were tied in a chair and made to listen to it over and over again, day in and day out. Wouldn't you feel foolish? Wouldn't it make you tired?"

"What we are needing is more men, men in whom there are the nobilities of the souls which God has given them, and here in this country we have lots of men and women who are struggling among the billows of appetite and sin and God is giving you the privilege of throwing out the life line, and rescue them from their bridge, balls and booze."

Rain Encouraged Singers.

The morning service was preceded by one of Prof. Mitchell's song services, and the splendid manner in which the chorus choir rendered the "Doxology," "Coronation" and other hymns of praise promptly dispelled any worry over the gloom of the morning. The rain did not seem to hinder the good Christians from turning out for the opening service and the tabernacle was more than half full when Prof. Mitchell called for the opening hymn. The new fall bonnets of the ladies seemed a little bedraggled, but their hearts and voices were happy in their anticipation of a series of meetings richly blessed and there was a profound spirit of approval in the "amen" that was chorused at the close of the opening prayer by Rev. Mr. Sparks, pastor of the First M. E. church.

The pastor pleaded for a host of blessings on the members of the evangelistic party and dedicated to the services of the Master not only the splendid building, but the hands and minds of the Newark church members who have been instrumental in promoting the revival work.

Immediately following the prayer, the choir sang "The New Glory Song," which the Lyon meetings have made as famous as the "Toreador" and "Glorious Song." The special musical feature for the morning service was one of Mrs. Grace Powell's richest solos, simple but superbly expressive, "If I Were a Voice."

And what a marvelous power there is in a voice that is guided by the "Lion of the Sea," a power that leads men to a conviction of their sins and a groping for the lights of life. Such is Mrs. Powell's portion in the revival estate and Newark is glad to welcome her and her work.

"The Lion of the Sea," Dr. Lyon, the bearer of the message that is expected to crush the serpent of vice forever from this city, was introduced to his congregation by Rev. Mr. Laughlin of the East Main street M. E. church, as the "man who is going to lead us safely and wisely into deeper things—the plain of the occasion." The pleasant-faced, sharp-eyed, short but business-like man that entered the pulpit did not lack conviction or sympathy. He showed in his opening words that he was ready for business and had a sympathetic interest in the problems that confront the Newark churches.

"I love Ohio, friends," he commenced. "I love Iowa, my home state, as I love a mother, but I have learned to love Ohio as I love my life. I love Newark on account of the pastors and their brave fight against the evils of our city. I remember writing a letter to Rev. Sparks a few years ago when he and Rev. Bennett were making their brave fight. I had never met either of them, but their work so impressed me that I wrote and promised that if ever the opportunity came for me to help fight against evil in Newark I would gladly take it."

Dr. Lyon took as his theme for the opening sermon "The Reasons for a Revival," reading from the scriptural account of the revival in Caesarea, Acts 10.

"Peter had been doing missionary work in Joppa," said the speaker. "By the spirit of contention the people of Caesarea wanted a meeting there, too, and sent a body of men to invite Peter to go up to Caesarea. And Peter went, and when he had been introduced to the congregation that waited for him, he remarked: 'I came unto you without rainsaving as soon as I was sent for,' and then he took the time to consider why he was there."

Prejudice Against Evangelism.

"There is a great deal of prejudice against revivals," said Dr. Lyon. "People don't like evangelists sometimes and they can't stand evangelistic services. All I am asking for is a square deal. We want fair play. Why do you class all evangelists in one class simply because you have known one evangelistic worker who was a rogue, a sharper and a grafter? Would you condemn the farmers of our country simply because one of them or a few of them proved a cheat and a swindler? We often find a doctor who is a quack, but who would indict the whole of the great medical fraternity because of this? Some of us have even known lawyers who weren't square. It takes more than one swallow to make a spring. Use the same common sense in regard to evangelists that you use in other lines."

The evangelist then took up the frequently-heard statement that people are "against revivals because they do not hold the converts after the revivalist leaves." "But just because some work has been superficial, they should all evangelistic work be put into that category," asked the speaker. "Jesus said that some seed would fall into bad soil, and should that mean that we are to neglect the good seed that we know is sown? On the other hand, there are churches where 48 out of 50 men and women who make a stand for Christ are still good church members. We can't condemn the evangelist on account of a difference in results of revivals. Much depends upon the way the work is followed up."

Playing With Cards Up.

"I have no cards to conceal. I want to show my whole hand," continued the speaker. "I want the support of every right-thinking person. One of the great misfortunes I have known in recent years is the recently expressed sympathy of Dr. Washington Gladden toward revival. He lies in Mr. Sunday. I believe in Washington Gladden. I have read everything that he has ever written. I believe in his earnest, faithful desire to build up the Kingdom of God. The trouble is that two men are looking at the same problem from different points of view, and before many months Dr. Gladden will be as enthusiastic for evangelistic meetings as you are here in Newark."

"There is an opposition to evangelistic work we must expect. Every saloon-keeper, bar-tender, and every keeper of a resort of vice and prostitution every one who wants to throw down the flood gates of vice, anarchy and licentiousness will fight to the finish against the revival. I believe though, that before six weeks are over, some of these men will be working for Christ and some of our church-warmers who have been hanging around on the fringe of Christian work will have to sit up and begin earning your soul, or some of the people who are now fighting the devil are going to give you a run for your money. As long as there are advocates of the devil you can depend that they are going to fight against this campaign."

Are You Going?

In speaking of evangelistic methods, Dr. Lyon proposed that there are "two ways of telling a man he is going to hell. One is with the most hardness of spirit, and the victim will smile and say 'All right, good-bye.' The other is with tears in the heart and voice, and that's the way I want to say things in this campaign. I want to say harsh things kindly. But, let me tell you that when you say that you don't like revivals, you are to remember that Satan doesn't like them either, and he is putting yourself in mighty bad company. Jesus Christ was an evangelist. Peter, Paul, Philip and John were evangelists, and any means of methods that were good enough for those men ought to be good enough for you and for me."

Revivals are important because of the results they accomplish, Dr. Lyon believes. They follow scientific methods. It is strange that some men who say they don't believe in revivals are great believers in political revivals. They will yell their heads off at a political meeting, but they're never there for the revival meeting room. There is a revival season in religion just as there's a revival season in agriculture. We sow and harvest, and a revival season in our educational methods. We need revivals naturally. We have disclosures of graft and greed in high place and low, and you'll hear and read a lot in the papers about cures for national evils. There is only one cure, and it is found in the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Hits the Common Hypocrisy.

"We need a great revival in the church. Many a church member has time for autoing on Sunday, and for his money-making, and for his golf, but he has no time for the gospel of Christ. May the Lord deliver any pastor from a lot of card-playing, beer-guzzling, Sabbath desecrating, worldly church members."

"We need a revival in the home," the speaker continued. "There was a time when family prayers and reading of the Bible to the family circle was an every day phase of the home life. Now it is forgotten and neglected. If you are to have a revival it must begin in the home."

"Friend, is God dead to you? How long has it been since the mountains and the hills, and the green of the trees and grass have been singing in praise for you?"

"And now, how are we going to promote Christianity? First, lay aside your criticism. I can't get up and please every one. We must have a plan. I expect some of you will think I am arbitrary, but I pray for myself and all the party that Jesus Christ may be supreme. Every campaign has to have a leader, a common denominator. And so everything that you will be asked to endorse will be something that we have tried out and which has proved successful. Every one believes he can do two things—run a newspaper and run a revival campaign, and many a man who can't run a wheelbarrow thinks he can tell the secretary of the treasury how to run his branch of the government."

A Scientific Method.

"We have to learn that evangelism is as much a science as surgery. If you have confidence enough to ask me to lead these meetings, you should have confidence enough to follow my way. If you cannot do anything to push on this great chariot of revival, I pray God that he will take your old carcass out of the way."

"Don't forget to pray. Most people think that when they get a corps of good men to run a revival, they can sit back and watch things as they would a dog fight, and see whether the devil gets the best of the preacher or vice versa."

Work Like the Devil.

"And don't forget to work. You can't have a revival without working. Some people think that evangelism is like vaccination, sometimes it takes and sometimes it doesn't. It is not so; if you want to do anything for God, you have to get out and work like the very devil."

You have to lay aside everything. There's something bigger than your studies, and if this community sends you willing to sacrifice your work to save souls its going to do more for the saving of souls in Newark than all the preaching that is to be done from this platform. Let's unite in making this a great campaign for the salvation of the lost, and God is going to give us a glorious victory through His dear name."

The morning meeting was closed by singing "There Shall be Showers of Blessing," and amid the rain-pouring belief of the Newark community in the success of their efforts. In all, it was a great service and a splendid commencement of the activities that are going to individualize Christianity in Newark during the next few weeks.

Rained All Afternoon.

Jupiter Pluvius continued his inflection during the afternoon, and the downpour prevented the filling of the tabernacle. This didn't seem to bother Dr. Lyon, however. "I believe God sent this rain for a purpose. He just wants to separate the chaff from the wheat and give me a chance to talk plain to you. Good Christians who were willing to brave the rain and come to these meetings," he suggested. "There were over a thousand at the afternoon meeting, besides two hundred singers, and their enthusiasm was supremely contagious. Every one smiled, everyone sang and everyone devoutly prayed with Dr. Lyon and Dr. Ward of the Central Church of Christ that there might be a great out-pouring of the spirit in Newark, that men and women might leave their daily cares and witness for Christ. The choir rendered several of the 'old favorites' and a few of the new ones, including the 'New Glory Song,' which 'a demanding commendation. 'Ain't it a fine bunch,' heartily, even though a trifle ungrammatically, inquired Professor Mitchell, as a big beaming smile spread over his face when the chorus resounded to 'Rescue the Perishing.' 'They're doing fine work and Newark should be proud of them,' Mrs. Powell's offering at the afternoon meeting was beautifully expressed: 'Holy Spirit, Love Divine.'"

Dr. Lyon's "gaze seemed a little husky during the afternoon, due to the strenuous manner in which he used it at the morning service and a severe cold with which he became afflicted on the way from Chicago to Newark. His words were easily heard, however, and as he witnessed his personal zeal for the Master, there were many in the audience who were convinced that they had not fully carried out His will in the past and promised themselves that they should be more earnest in their religious activities hereafter."

The Duty of Witnessing.

"Witnessing for Christ" was the theme chosen by Dr. Lyon, and he spoke for forty minutes on the text, Acts 1:8, "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall witness unto me." "The words were spoken at the end of Christ's earthly ministry, after he had spent three years in witnessing for His Father in the lands of that time, after he had been insulted, scourged, crucified and had risen from the dead to again take up the thread of the world's salvation. He had impressed his disciples, by precept and example, in the work which they were to do. If you were at the bedside of a dying friend, the farewell word that he would speak to you would be most carefully treasured by you," said Dr. Lyon, "and it was with said, but faithful hearts that the disciples heard Him say: 'Ye shall be witnesses unto me.'"

"Let us not forget the greatness and distinction in witnessing for Jesus. It is a greater honor than being an ambassador to the greatest court in the world, a king on a throne, or to have the power of attorney of the richest man alive today. We are ambassadors extraordinary to the High Court of Heaven."

Christ vs. Politics.

The responsibility, Dr. Lyon pointed out, is also a grave one. Jesus must have devised some other way for the salvation of the world, but he wanted you and me to get the power and the blessing that comes through our heavenly ministry. The opportunity is great. Politics can't save this world of ours; ethics can't save it; it's alone the gospel of Christ that can save it, through personal witnessing for Christ."

"And how are we going to witness? By words, by works and by our lives! Stephen witnessed so effectively by words that they began to kill him to make him stop witnessing! How many so-called Christians we hear saying 'I am not one of the talking Christians. I am so modest, so retiring.'"

Frozen at the Mouth.

"Lots of people seem to be like the river that flows into the North Sea—frozen at the mouth! They're tongue-tied in religion. But this is a nonsense; a Christian is never afflicted with a 'dumb devil.' You can always talk about the things that interest you."

"We can witness by our works. One reason that people don't have any interest in things is because they don't put in enough capital to get interest on. William Gladstone, prime minister of England, once visited a poor street sweeper who had been taken ill and with whom he had passed an occasional friendly word. He read to him from the gospel and prayed with him. Friends, you and I cannot all be Gladstones, but we can witness for Christ by our words. Some of you women with nice automobiles could do no better than sit back and watch things as they would a dog fight, and see whether the devil gets the best of the preacher or vice versa."

But greater than witnessing by our words and our works is witnessing by our lives. You can have Christian works and words without Christian lives. A man may give a million dollars to a university and still not be a Christian. I like to hear people say 'I'm saved'—and then deliver the goods. People have tired of buying goods from catalogs in religion; they want to see samples, and if a business firm—and I've been a salesman—sent out drummers with as poor a line of samples as some of the churches carry, they'd be bankrupt inside of ninety days."

Dr. Lyon leaned far over his pulpit and slowly and carefully admonished his audience that their witnessing for Christ must be as the result of a personal experience. "Too many people are getting their religion and doing their witnessing second handed; it's like eating warm-over potatoes. You'll have to get down to business if you want to witness for Jesus. It's the message of God to YOUR soul that the world is waiting to hear."

He declared, "If in society you are caring more for pleasure than you are for goodness; if in business, you are caring more for your money than you are for character, or if in politics you are caring more for party than you are for principle, you are an opponent and not an exponent of Christ."

The speaker also scored the members of the Young Peoples' Societies of today. "What's the matter with them? They simply have the religion; they join the society in the same way that they would join a chautauqua club or a reading circle. That's the reason why people have time for politics and no time for Christ. When you are saved from your bad temper, your lust, your every vice, you can get up in a prayer meeting or in a young people's society and give YOUR witness to the saving power of Jesus Christ. It means the surrender of all you have and all you are, but when you pay that price, as Jesus did before Pilate, in the Jerusalem of your own home, the power of your witness will grow."

The afternoon service was closed with an eloquent plea for the elimination of laziness and selfishness from the lives of every professing Christian, that the work of the kingdom might prosper and our words and our works and our lives show the true glory of Jesus Christ."

General Revival Notes.

Although it is not generally known the smile on the ever-genial countenance of Fred Hazen, who is one of the most active young fellows in revival work, is caused by his recent arrival here, but when you see him during the local services, enjoying her honeymoon to the fullest extent.

The Bible meeting on Wednesday afternoon, to be led by Mrs. Frances Allison of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, is being looked forward to. Mrs. Allison is one of the foremost workers in the United States, a woman of Christian culture and spiritual refinement that never fails to carry her message in a strong way.

Workers are busy at the tabernacle today, installing a gas heating system, repairing a few cracks in the roof, which caused a little inconvenience during yesterday's storm building a new entrance in the northwestern corner for the use of the chorus singers, raising the speaker's platform and doing a score or more of odd tasks.

The Heisey glass factory was favored with the opening shop meeting at noon today. For twenty minutes the message of the gospel expounded by Mr. Holloway, Dr. Lyon's personal and efficient assistant. The meetings promise to be of great merit as the campaign progresses.

Revival headquarters are established at 145 West Main street, where the members of the Lyon party will be glad to meet persons needing information at any time.

Don't forget that the neighborhood prayer meetings are now being held at 9 o'clock each morning.

GOOD-BY TODAY TO THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

Today the people of the northern hemisphere bid a sad or glad farewell, according to the point of view, to that "good old summer time" and extend a more or less cordial welcome to fall. The autumnal equinox began early this morning, and the "melancholy days have come" to remain until Dec. 21, when the winter solstice begins. Today the last straw lid will be sent to the discard and the last bunch of belated summer girls will have arrived home, there to begin the task of removing the coat of tan which they have been cultivating with such assiduity for the last three months.

According to ancient tradition the beginning of autumn is usually marked by what are called equinoctial storms, but scientists have lately dismissed with scorn the idea that the equinox has anything to do with such storms as may prevail about this time. The Oldest Inhabitant, however, is equally scornful of the scientific weather sharps, and has the facts, figures and statistics to prove his assertion. He points to the September cyclone that visited Galveston and the Gulf Coast in '75, which continued for three days and killed a hundred people in one village alone; to the September gale which raged along the New England coast in '69; to the terrible flood which inundated the country along the Rhine 60 years ago today; to the Brownsville, Tex., hurricane just a quarter of a century ago; to the great storms in India which began Sept. 23, 1875, and left 20,000 people homeless; to the floods in France in 1866, and to the September floods in China a quarter of a century ago, in which thousands of people along the Yellow River were drowned; to the September storm which raged over the Atlantic in 1857, causing the loss of the New York-Havana steamship Central America, which went down with over 400 souls and with a treasure in gold of more than $2,000,000. And he may even hold the autumn equinox responsible for the fact that September is noted in history as an earthquake month. In fact, the Oldest Inhabitant has the goods, and the meteorological expert will have a difficult time explaining away the proof on the ground of coincidence.

Sixty years ago, in 1852, the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography was organized to consider means and methods for fighting the epidemic of Asiatic cholera that was then raging in Europe. Since that first meeting thirteen similar gatherings have been held in various European cities, but the session called for Washington, beginning today, is the first on this side of the Atlantic. It has been due to this great body of scientist and medical men, more than to any other agency, that cholera has ceased to be a scourge to America and Europe. The terrible cholera epidemic of the last century spread from India into Russia in 1829, and to Germany and England in 1830-31, carrying off nearly a million people. It reached America in 1832, the first death occurring in Quebec, whence it spread to cities as far distant as New Orleans. Another visitation of cholera in England began in 1849, causing 15,000 deaths. When the scourge reappeared in 1852, the leading medical men of Europe organized to combat the disease. In 1865-66 the dread disease was again prevalent in Europe, but the fatalities were much fewer than in previous epidemics. Since then the disease has been practically wiped out in Europe and America.

THE ELEPHANT-BULL MOOSE OPENINGS

The Taft stand-patters and Roosevelt bull moosers had their Ohio campaign openings on Saturday. The Taft crowd met at Columbus and in contrast with the big Democratic opening the day previous, in point of numbers, was the most significant political event in Ohio for many years. The Bull Moose party had a double-barreled opening, one at Akron in the afternoon and the other at Cleveland at night. In point of numbers the Akron meeting, too, far excelled the Taft opening at Columbus. The fact is there were more people at the Democratic opening on Friday than all three of the Taft-Roosevelt openings on Saturday. It is to be noted, too, that at the three Taft-Roosevelt meetings there was far more bitterness manifested by the factions toward each other than toward the Democrats.

Only six Republican nominees for Congress at the Taft opening at Columbus on Saturday and but few members of the State committee were on hand. Such a failure as a campaign opening was really a pathetic spectacle.

The Blaine club from Cincinnati, who attended the Taft opening at Columbus on Saturday were a gloomy looking set. Their big white hats and flashy badges failed to cheer any of the long faces in the club's parade. It was not thus in all previous years when the club visited Columbus.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S TRUST PARTNERS

According to associated press dispatches of September 17 from Chicago, where the Government's suit against the International Harvester Company is being tried, George W. Perkins, manager of Roosevelt's campaign for a third term, was one of three money kings, who in 1902 formed a voting trust, which placed them in absolute control of the $140,000,000 International Harvester company. At the very time Perkins was spending his money and that of his business associates to defeat President Taft in Chicago he was one of the controlling forces in this $140,000,000 trust. The agreement for the voting trust expired only a few weeks ago, according to testimony given in Chicago.

An exhibit introduced showed that Mr. Perkins was chairman of the corporation's finance committee, and that, of the six members of that committee four were directors in the Steel Corporation and members of the Steel Corporation's finance committee, as follows: E. H. Gary, Norman B. Rean, George F. Baker, and Mr. Perkins. Apparently, Colonel Roosevelt has resumed the secret partnership which existed between himself and the steel trust while he was President. Perkins, Morgan, et al., have not forgotten the immense advantage they obtained when Roosevelt permitted them flagrantly to violate the antitrust law, and to absorb their only competitor in the steel business, the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. Perkins wants more such favors. Hence he finances the third term campaign.

Those candidates for state offices who entered the Republican state convention after the Third Term party in Chicago made nominations and represented themselves to be Republicans, and on the strength of such representations, were nominated, surely forfeited the respect and confidence of loyal Republicans everywhere when they grabbed for the Third Term party endorsement bait dangled before them by Walter Brown. For weeks it was impossible to tell what their party affiliations were. They have never pledged their fealty to the head of the national ticket. John L. Sullivan and Bill Kirtly gave open insult to the Republicans of Ohio when they relinquished the nominations given them and went on the Third Term party ticket.

When J. P. Morgan and others bought Andrew Carnegie's steel plant, they removed the remaining obstacle that prevented their absolutely dominating the steel industry of the country. Governor Wilson, in his speech at Sioux City, Iowa, recently, thus succinctly stated why this purchase was made: "Carnegie's competitors found they could not undersell him because he had more brains in running the business, they bought him out at four or five times the value of his property and then, in what they charged afterwards for the product, they made us pay interest on the four or five times the amount of the value of the property which they had paid him."

EX-CONG. B. G. DAWES PREDICTS ELECTION OF JAMES M. COX

Ex-Congressman Beeman G. Dawes of Marietta, a former Newark man, in an interview in New York Saturday predicted the election of Congressman James Cox at the November election. "I would not be a bit surprised," said Mr. Dawes, "to see Congressman Cox win out on about even terms with Wilson in our state. I figure Mr. Cox's plurality at about 130,000 and 124,000. There is no question in my mind about the big vote that will be given Cox."

Mr. Dawes is a Taft Republican and declares that Roosevelt has no hopes of winning the election this fall but that he is preparing himself for the presidential race four years hence. He says that Roosevelt is in the race merely to defeat Taft for a second term.

Mr. Dawes has been in New York for the past week with his brother, Charles G. Dawes. The latter's son, Rufus Fearing Dawes, was drowned at Lake Geneva, N. Y., during the past summer.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

To Purify Polluted Water. The following method of purifying water from a polluted well or other impure source of supply is given in the Chicago health department bulletin:

"Dissolve a teaspoonful of chloride of lime in a cupful of water, making sure that all lumps are thoroughly broken up, then add three more cupfuls of water. Stir the mixture well and allow to stand for a few seconds in order that any solid particles may settle. This mixture, if kept in a tightly stoppered bottle, may be used for four or five days, when a new solution should be prepared. Add one teaspoonful of this milky looking solution to each two gallons of water to be purified and stir thoroughly in order that the weak chlorine solution will come in contact with all the bacteria which may be present. Allow this to stand for ten minutes. This will give approximately one-half part of free chlorine to 1,000,000 parts of water, and will effectually destroy all typhoid and colon bacilli or other disease germs in the water. The water will be without taste or odor and the trace of free chlorine will rapidly disappear. This method is one which is now recommended in the health literature of the country. On account of its simplicity, effectiveness and small cost, it is particularly well adapted for use by private families, campers and those living in summer resorts."

OBITUARY

JOHN W. CAMP.

John W. Camp, aged 51 years, died Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at 18 South Williams street following an illness of eight weeks of cancer of the bladder. Mr. Camp was a carpenter and was well known in Newark. He was born at Brownsville, this county, Oct. 31, 1860.

Five brothers and sisters survive. They are William H. Camp of Outville, Charles Camp of Alexandria, Mrs. P. E. Burge of Hudson avenue, Miss Jennie Camp who lived at home and Mrs. Perry Helemkee of Pine street.

Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. L. C. Sparks officiating. Interment at Cedar Hill cemetery.

MARY A. HOLLENBAUGH.

Mrs. Mary A. Hollenbaugh, a widow, died Saturday evening at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her son, Edward Hollenbaugh, 42 Curtis avenue. Mrs. Hollenbaugh was 79 years old and has been afflicted with blindness for the past eight years. She was born in Beaver county, Pa., and has lived in Newark for the past three years. Besides the son at whose home she died, she leaves two others, John Hollenbaugh of Kokomo, Ind., and Olinthus of Rochester, Pa.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock at Mr. Hollenbaugh's home, Rev. Mr. Tyler, officiating. Tuesday morning the body will be taken to Rochester, Pa., via the Pennsylvania train which leaves Newark at 8:30. Interment will be made at Rochester.

MRS. LYDIA GREEN.

Granville, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Lydia Green, for many years a resident of Granville, died at her home here early Sunday morning after an illness of only three days. The deceased was 70 years of age and was survived by two daughters, the Misses Laura and Lety Green. Funeral announcements later.

WE'LL HAVE PLENTY OF PIN MONEY SOON

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

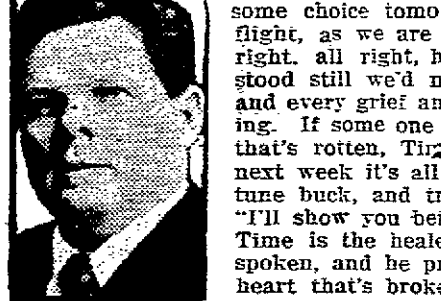

After October 20 next Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt will not be embarrassed for the lack of pin money. In fact, he will be tolerably well fixed, for on that day he will come into possession of a sum estimated conservatively at $25,000,000. Under the will of Cornelius Vanderbilt, father of Alfred Gwynne, the son was to receive half of a $50,000,000 estate when he became thirty, and the other half on his thirty-fifth birthday. Alfred Gwynne will pass his thirty-fifth milestone on October 20 next.

FLIGHT OF TIME.

Old Father Time keeps up his gait, unwearied, never stopping. Soon we must get our checkbooks straight and do our Christmas shopping. There's such a string of yesterday's! And each one had its sorrows, and Time goes hustling down the ways to bring some choice tomorrows. We oftentimes deplore his flight, as we are growing older; but Father Time's all right, all right, his scythe upon his shoulder! If Time stood still we'd never quit to waiting places wedding, and every grief and every fit would never have an ending. If some one treats me ill today, gives me a deal that's rotten, Time gently soothes my wrath away—next week it's all forgotten. When I against misfortune, and troubles with me linger, Time says, "I'll show you better luck," and leads me by the finger. Time is the healer and the hope when all is done and spoken, and he provides the only dope that heals the heart that's broken. The gall and bitterness of life, the tears o'er vain endeavor, the acrimony and the strife, Time wipes away forever. Then let us not o'er trouble wall, but patiently endure it; though all the other healers fail, Time certainly will cure it.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

By O. Terrence.

MODERATOR MATTHEWS, HERETIC HUNTER, 45 TOMORROW

The Rev. Mark Allison Matthews, of Seattle, moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States, will celebrate his forty-fifth birthday tomorrow. In twenty-five years he has risen from the pastorate of a country town church in Georgia to the leadership of a great religious denomination with a total membership of 1,239,000. Since his recent election as moderator of the Presbyterians of the United States he has gained further fame as a "heresy hunter," and has brought to an issue the internal strife that has long been waged in the denomination between the conservatives who remain true to the old doctrines and the "progressives" who hold that the church should keep step with the developments of modern science and criticism.

Dr. Matthews has aligned himself definitely with those who stand by the "old time religion," and in the course of an address before the International Bible Conference last month he called to account those who "pretend to believe in the resurrection of Christ, but who so explain it as to deprive it of any of its literal reality. He followed with a bitter attack on Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of The Outlook, in which he said:

"Perhaps some of you ministers select The Outlook and think your status very wise. If ever there was a publication edited by heretics The Outlook is that sheet. It is edited by a bunch of heretics; if you continue to read it you will have theological meningitis, sociological neuritis and political gastritis."

Such an application of the nomenclature of medical science to the already formidable denunciatory vocabulary of theology naturally attracted international attention, especially as

MEMORIAL DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF THE HEROES OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR

In these days of political and social unrest, there is an oft-repeated misconstruction of patriotism; love of country often seems to have been deteriorated from the high standard of former days, and there has crept in a spirit of selfishness that threatens to mar the beauty of our national customs. But to those who witnessed the services held at Cedar Hill cemetery Saturday afternoon, when a sun-dial was officially dedicated to the memory of the heroes of the revolutionary war by the members of Hetuck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, there came a vision of a larger, a more vital and an eternal patriotism. There were about fifty members of the chapter present, some few citizens and a division of the "Old Guard" living monuments to the patriotic inheritance of the first great conflict. The sun-dial, mounted on a beautifully carved stone base is surmounted by an American flag which will be kept streaming over the dial whenever the weather permits and particularly on all national holidays.

The services were very impressive, opening with a bugle call and the recitation of the Lord's prayer. Mrs. Anna B. Hatch, regent of Hetuck Chapter, apostrophized the work of the Daughters of the American Revolution in a brief, eloquent address, and formally dedicated to all posterity their tribute to the fifty-two revolutionary soldiers buried in Licking county. A salute to the flag, a feature of the D. A. R. code and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the members of the order closed this section of the program.

Addresses by Rev. J. A. Bennett, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist church of Newark, Col. Charles Kibler and Rev. J. L. Willy of Granville all bespoke the priceless heritage of those who are able to claim ancestry among the fighters of revolutionary times. These three gentlemen, all of whom are bound by strong ties to the military history of the United States impressively painted the real importance of the modern evidence of patriotism, as exemplified in the lives of individuals as well as in their acts in commemoration of their hero dead. Following their addresses, the party joined in singing "America," after which members of the "Old Guard" fired a salute over the memorial and taps were sounded by the corps bugler from the far end of the cemetery.

The exercises were attended by several members of the Granville chapter, who were accorded a reception at the home of Mrs. Hatch. Among those present from the college town were Mesdames Hines, Cook, Loveless, Pond, Brumback, Chamberlain, Stickney, Swartz, Hobart, Parsons, and the Misses Bancroft, Raymond and Adella Smith.

FIRST THINGS

The first announcement of his discovery of the Book of Mormons was made by Joseph Smith, the founder of the sect, 85 years ago today. Smith, called the Prophet, described the book was written in gold plates in Egyptian characters. Opponents of Mormonism assert that the book was in reality written a century ago in 1812, by a clergyman named Solomon Spaulding, as a religious romance in imitation of the scripture style. The work was little known, and it is alleged that when it fell into the hands of Smith he determined to palm it off as a new revelation. The Book of Mormon was first translated and published in America in 1830, and in England in 1841. The first Mormon church was organized at Manchester, N. Y., in 1830. The allegations of critics as to the origin of their "sacred book" are bitterly denied by the numerous followers of the Prophet.

HOW TO VOTE THE JUDICIAL TICKET

Under the new non-partisan Judicial Ticket law, the candidates for the various Judicial offices will appear on a separate ticket, with nothing to designate their political position. The following explanation of the ticket is given in order that Democratic voters and friends of the Democratic candidates may know how to mark their ballots. Those marked with the X are the Democratic nominees, and for these Democrats will vote. For convenience, the voter should cut this out and keep it.

Kewpie Kutouts in many colors

WHEN you see the Kewpie Kutouts you will want them all. The Kutouts are colored, just as if they were alive. They have both fronts and backs. When you cut them out and paste them together they look good either going or coming. The Kutouts are several inches high, too, as big as little dolls should be. And they stand up all alone.

You will find them in the October number of the Woman's Home Companion. More Kewpies every month, and Dotty Darling, who is a beautiful little doll girl, Dotty's Baby Brother, and clothes for Dotty Darling too. Rose O'Neill, the famous artist, makes the Kewpie Kutouts. SOCIETY

The members of the Sesame club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Glen Carlinghouse, Thursday afternoon in the Sharon Valler road. The members were taken to the home in a hay wagon. Mrs. Clyde Doughty won the prize in a guessing contest. Mrs. Daniel Doughty and Mrs. Henry Andrews were guests of the club. A delicious luncheon was served in the dining room, which the members and guests greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Glen Carlinghouse brought them all home on a hay wagon. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Kelley in Eleventh street.

The Ladies Division club will meet with Mrs. C. A. Irwin, 261 Buena Vista street, Thursday afternoon instead of Wednesday.

One of the social events of the week will be the wedding on Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock of Mr. Lee Moore of this city to Miss Marie Foible of Cincinnati, O.

Heim, Mrs. Steese, Mrs. Helen Huffman, Mrs. DeWalt, and the Misses Leona May Heim, Helen Louise Ryan, Geraldine Steese, and Master Willard Huffman.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Heim, Gay street, October the fourth.

MEETING OF THE GRANVILLE TWP. SCHOOL BOARD

The Granville township school board met Saturday evening in the town hall at Granville, with the following members present: J. C. Pence, Russell Moore, L. A. Woodard, Charles Reese and W. H. Pittsford. The clerk, Dr. W. C. Clemens and the township superintendent, Prof. Charles Davis, were also in attendance.

The board conducted the usual routine business and ordered bills paid to the amount of $65.

The superintendent reported that the schools were in a very satisfactory condition and that they had a large attendance.

DISPONDENT WOMEN
Of course a woman will naturally see the dark side of everything when tortured by some form of female disease from which she cannot find relief.

No woman can be happy when there are irregularities, nervousness, backache, headache, dragging down pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement.

Such women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will go to the foot of the evil and quickly dispel these troubles. It has been the safeguard of woman's health for nearly forty years, and druggists sell large quantities of it.

TAX COMMISSION ADDS $12,260 TO ASSESSMENT

Licking Light and Power Company
Now Assessed at $178,160, as Compared to $166,000 in 1911.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—The assessment of electric companies in Ohio for the year 1912 shows a total net increase of $1,976,710 over last year, according to the figures given out by the tax commission today. The gross increase amounted to $5,092,785, but there was a total decrease of $117,175. The largest decrease was given by the Columbus Railroad & Light Company, $85,340, while the largest increase was made by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., of $2,896,570. Other important increases included the Licking Light & Power Company, $165,900 in 1911, and $178,160 in 1912, an increase of $12,260.

Birthday of Jack and Mike, Fighting Sullivan Twins

Fighting often runs in families, and numerous instances might be cited of brothers who have gained pugilistic renown. Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has recently developed his kid brother into a crack fighter. Dr. Leach Cross has two brothers who have shown well in the ring. Abe is not the only Artell who has made good at the Queensberry game, and Johnny Kilbane has a brother who is quite handy with the gloves. Kid McCoy's brother was once a fair fighter. Many others might be mentioned but modern ring annals contain only one set of twins who have attained prominence in the biff game. These are the Sullivans, Jack and Mike, who were born at Cambridge, Mass., 34 years ago tomorrow. Jack Twin was the better man of the two, although Mike was in his prime a mighty hard man to handle for any fighter of his class. Jack began fighting in 1896, when he appeared in numerous preliminaries. During his first year he won all his battles with two exceptions and these were draws. Ten years ago Jack began to go up against the good ones in the middleweight and heavyweight divisions, fighting draws with Peter Jackson, Owen Zeigler and Mike Schreck. His first defeat came in 1903, when Philadelphia Jack O'Brien defeated him in 15 rounds. The following year he again met O'Brien and was knocked out in the third round. In the same year he defeated Martin Duffy, Hugo Kelly and Mike Schreck. He lost another battle with Kelly that year, and a third resulted in a draw. Kid McCoy defeated him, but the bout went twenty rounds. In 1905 he fought twice with Tommy Burns, the Canadian, winning the decision in one 20-round affair and a draw in the other. In this year he also held his old foe, Jack O'Brien to a draw. In 1906 he fought draws with Hugo Kelly and Jim Flynn, but in another bout was defeated by the Pueblo freeman in 19 rounds. Jack Palmer and Bill Squires were among his victims that year. He was knocked out in 20 rounds by Stanley Ketchel at San Francisco in 1908, and lost on a foul to Marvin Hart, but defeated Jim Prendergast at Halifax. Since then Jack has been going backward and has often met defeat at the hands of second raters.

While there are exceptions, lovers are advised that the rule is that no girl can be won in a ninth inning rally. You have to win a girl early in the game or lose her.

THE PROSPECT.
"I hear you're engaged to be married next week, so I suppose you'll be giving up your bachelor quarters?"
"Yes, and my benedict dollars."

Taking it one season with another, Ben Davises are plentiful and apples scarce.

A member of the Auger club way-laid Eph Wiley and held him for an hour. "What was he talking about?" a bystander asked after Eph had broken loose. "I don't know," Eph replied. "He didn't say."

Most investigations are limelighting expeditions conducted for the purpose of illuminating some individual or political group.

A correspondent asks whether there is any way of getting rid of a prominent Adam's apple. The only way is to swallow it, and that method is not recommended.

In New York a Chinese woman complained to the authorities, saying her husband mistreated her. This seems to disturb the generally accepted theory that a Chinese wife takes whatever her husband hands her.

If your ambition to gather it easily leads you into Wall street, do not complain if, during the process of being trimmed, you suffer some pain.

Men frequently say to their wives: "I didn't marry your family." But in the majority of cases that is what it amounts to.

The man who can cook and make himself useful about the house might as well do it. He seldom is worth much down town.

Eph Wiley says that while he is willing to be convinced, no woman who stumps the country for a presidential candidate can do it.

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN by Barbara Boyd

Securing Artistic Effects in Furnishings

WE WILL soon be putting our houses in order for the winter, and many of us are wishing we could achieve some new effects, or make our homes prettier than they were last season. But as we are going to use exactly the same furnishings, we feel rather hopeless as to securing any new or better results.

But we may be able to work quite a transformation simply by a change in arrangement. An interior decorator of repute has been talking lately upon the value of lines. He says no room will look its best, if the lines of the furnishings all go the same way. This does not mean they should go "every which way," as old-time housekeepers used to say. But monotony should be broken.

A room in which every piece of furniture is arranged primly across the four walls will look better if a sofa is placed diagonally across a corner, or a table set at right angles to the other pieces of furniture.

If the room is large enough, a davenport backed up against a table, in the centre or at one end of the room, will lend decided charm. Most of us have an idea that a davenport or couch must be set against the wall. But this is not inherently necessary. They don't grow that way. If the room is large enough to permit a freer arrangement, try it. If you will study the pictures of rooms in the homes of the wealthy, you will see big, easy couches and desks and tables in the centre of the room or toward the side, but at some distance from the wall. And the rooms look a hundred per cent. better than if there were no such breaks.

Then every room ought to have a centre of some sort. If there is a fireplace, this naturally becomes the central point. Easy chairs are grouped about it, a table with a reading lamp, possibly a davenport.

But if there is no fireplace, and in most houses there is none, some point or some object should be made the centre. It may be a desk, a table, the piano, the sofa. But easy chairs should be placed near and a reading light handy. Such a centre gives a room a homelike, sociable air.

Then, too, the housekeeper who wishes to give her home a different air this fall may do so by regrouping some of the furnishings. Perhaps she can get a more harmonious color scheme by changing about some of the little fixings, such as sofa-cushions, stand covers, small rugs, portieres, vases and bric-a-brac. Or she may secure a much better effect by re-grouping some of her pictures. And it is just possible she may make her rooms far more harmonious and artistic by omitting altogether some of the furnishings. There may be some that jar, that do not fit into the furnishing scheme of any room. These may be the very things that have caused the dissatisfaction she has felt without exactly knowing what was the matter. Or the rooms may be over-crowded, and this may be the cause of the home's not looking as artistic and restful as she wishes.

Why not experiment along these lines when putting the house in order this fall? You may be able thereby to effect some changes that will be a delight to you all winter.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Friendly Pussy Cat Strays From Home

Two pairs of very wide eyes stared up into daddy's as Jack and Evelyn called for the bedtime story.

"Pussie Prue was a friendly cat," daddy began. "Her mother, a staid old mouser, told Prue that it was not wise to make friends of every one."

"When the gate was open Prue would sometimes slip out and go off around the neighborhood visiting. Then, when she was missed, Prue's little mistress would hunt everywhere for her. Perhaps, because she was always petted so much and given something nice to eat when she came back. Prue enjoyed getting lost."

"One morning when everything was very quiet in the house Prue stretched and yawned on the rug on the front porch."

"Ah," she said, as Neddy rushed out on his way to school, "perhaps he'll leave the gate open." Neddy nearly always did leave the gate open.

"Pussie Prue waited until Neddy had got around the corner. Then she rose, stretched herself, and crept to the gate."

"Poking her nose outside she saw the fish man's wagon several blocks away. She was very fond of the fish man, for, when she followed the cook to the gate, he generally threw a piece of fish to her."

"I'll go down there and meet him," purred Pussie Prue.

"She skipped across the street, just missing an automobile that came dashing around the corner."

"On the other side she stopped to peep into an open gateway, and the gardener, who was working in one of the flower beds, threw a stone at her."

"Luckily it just missed her, and Prue went on her way somewhat out of temper."

"See the pussie! See the pussie!" cried a little girl coming out of a gateway a little farther along.

"Catch her! Catch her!" cried her brother, and Prue had to dash into another garden where there was a fence to get out of their way."

"When she reached the fish man's wagon he did not know her. 'Scat that cat out of here,' he said to his boy. 'She'll be stealing some of the fish next!'"

"So the boy scattered with a right good will and, while he was at it, a cross dog came around the corner. He dashed at the cat and she had only time to rush up a tree."

"Mother, dear, I'll mind you after this. The best friends a little cat has are the home friends," Pussie Prue said when she got home."

Patrolmen Sutkie and Huffman made the arrests.

Autumn is Here.

The inhabitants of the northern hemisphere have now entered upon the third season of the year, known as fall or autumn and Sunday the first day of the new season was typical, possessing all the melancholy of a dying summer. Fall or autumn is known astronomically as the period when the sun passes from the autumnal equinox and enters Libra on September 22 and ends at the winter solstice when the sun enters Capricorn December 21.

Protect Your Horses.

Humane Officer J. P. Harris found numerous horses standing in the streets Sunday night unprotected from the cold rain which fell most of the evening. The officer states that the animals suffered considerably from the exposure and he urges the owners in the future to see that the animals are properly blanketed with waterproofs. To allow the animals to stand unprotected is a violation of the laws and comes within the meaning of "cruelty to animals." Mr. Harris states that he hopes prosecution will not become necessary for failure to observe this suggestion.

LAKE YACHT CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Officers were named yesterday at the annual meeting of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club at the clubhouse at Buckeye Lake. H. D. Freeman of Columbus was chosen commodore, and J. F. Cherry of Newark, vice commodore. Other officers elected were: W. T. Whitacre, rear commodore; F. W. Hoffman, secretary; L. B. Schneider, treasurer, and B. F. Heilmann, H. C. Holbrook, William Frisbie, board of governors. All the officers are Columbus men except Mr. Cherry.

A new constitution was adopted at the meeting, which closed with a luncheon. The new home of the club is under roof and will be ready for occupancy by spring.

To Take Half Holiday.

In accordance with the movement among the businessmen of Newark to make the Licking County Fair of 1912 the greatest exhibition in years, and following the suggestion that opportunity be given to all to enjoy at least a day at the fair, a petition was circulated through the offices of the court house asking that Thursday afternoon of fair week be made a half holiday. The petition was met with enthusiasm and in consequence of the universal approval of the officers the county offices will be closed on Thursday afternoon, and every one will make a visit to the Licking county exposition.

DO YOU DREAD MONDAYS?

Most women go, when Monday means to them a hot, steaming, smelly house because it is washday. If they would use Easy Task laundry soap they would find that the clothing and linen were cleaner and sweeter when finished, and that the work is done in half the time, with no fretting and fussing and bad temper. Easy Task soap takes the dirt out and doesn't drive it in. It's a white pure soap; not a dingy yellow soap that smells bad in the cake and worse in the tub.

DON'T GOUGE OUT YOUR CORNS.

The razor or jack-knife way of paring and gouging out corns is but a temporary relief, and very often causes blood poisoning. To quickly relieve the pain and surely lift out the corn, apply Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor, the one sure remedy for sore foot lumps, warts, bunions and corns. Its name tells the story—Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor, the one sure remedy for sore foot lumps, warts, bunions and corns. Beware of dangerous substitutes and buy Putnam's Extractor which is sold by W. A. Erman.

NEWARK CAPTURES STATE CONVENTION FOR 1913 OF GERMAN-AMERICAN ALLIANCE

Youngstown, O., Sept. 23.—The German-American Alliance, representing the United German Societies of twenty cities, will hold their 1913 convention in Newark. The Newark delegation went after the State Convention and though Cedar Point seemed to have the "call" before the balloting began on Sunday the delegates for Newark were successful and immediately telegraphed the Newark Board of Trade to that effect.

Five hundred delegates met here Saturday in the ninth annual convention of the German-American Alliance of Ohio. A special train brought the delegates from Hamilton, Cincinnati and Dayton, and many other cities including Newark, were well represented. Cincinnati headed the list with 105 representatives, while Cleveland was second with 100.

Judge John Schwaab, of Cincinnati, opened the convention, introducing Henry Deitz, the local president, who in turn presented Mayor Hartenstein. The Mayor in a felicitous speech presented the keys of the city to the organization.

As Judge Schwaab arose to deliver his annual address he was presented a gavel by Jacob Engle of Steubenville. Judge Schwaab dealt largely with political matters affecting the state. He spoke of the part the alliance had played in the defeat of woman suffrage and the success of the license amendment and the initiative and referendum. Now that the initiative and referendum had passed, he commended caution and watchfulness, lest the measure be used by enemies as well as friends.

Affecting the alliance itself Judge Schwaab offered a series of eight recommendations, the fifth of which was aimed at William Williams, commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island. The purport of this recommendation is that President Taft be asked, whether, if elected, he will retain said official in his present position. Judge Schwaab declared that Williams is known as the "Terror of Ellis Island," that he holds away there like a czar, and has treated German immigrants with such injustice and such inhumanity as to indicate that he is guided by blind fanaticism and hate of the German people.

Saturday night's feature was a torch light parade and "Kommers," with music, addresses and banquet at the Auditorium.

Sunday a grand reunion and feast was held at Southern park.

EVER EAT SOAPY SOAP.

My! Isn't it nasty! When they use cheap old yellow soap to wash the dishes some of it always sticks there and seems like you can taste it all the time. There isn't any excuse for it, if your folks know about Easy Task Soap, which makes dishes perfectly and antiseptically clean; and doesn't cost any more than the yellow soaps that causes the trouble.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with croup if you apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil at once. It acts like magic.

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Pugsan Terhune

Jean Lafitte, and the "Pirate Trust"

TWO young Frenchmen—Jean and Pierre Lafitte—started a blacksmith shop in New Orleans in 1809. They had not the look or manner of blacksmiths. Probably Jean—a JEAN LAFITTE—splendid, handsome giant, the hero of this story—never wielded hammer or shod a horse in all his career. Instead, he made negro slaves do the rough work while he strolled about the city and planned bigger enterprises.

Jean Lafitte was a blackguard. But he was a manly, likeable blackguard. And, once at least, he did our country valiant service. He was a pirate. Yet some historians say he went to sea but twice in his life—once when he came from France to New Orleans as a youth and once when he sailed away from America in 1820, never again to be heard of. Others say it was Pierre who set sail in 1820 and who garished somewhere in the ocean, while Jean went to Yucatan and lived six years longer in ill-earned luxury. The fact remains that there is no absolute knowledge as to whence Jean Lafitte came or whither he vanished. He was a man of mystery.

Louisiana in those days consisted largely of rich, unsettled land. Into these waste spaces the pioneers began to come. Huge plantations sprang up. To work the plantations there was need for thousands of negro slaves. And the slave trade between Africa and America thrived tremendously. A negro that cost $20 in his African jungle could often be sold for $1,000 in the New Orleans market. Then the United States declared the horrible African slave trade illegal. This stopped the imports. The planters clamored for more slaves. Gangs of smugglers met the demand by secretly buying slaves intended for Spain's Cuban and South American plantations and landing them by night in the Louisiana bayous. There was money in this sort of business. More than in blacksmithing. So, the Lafitte brothers became slave smugglers.

Then Jean's fertile brain still further improved his business in a rather original way. What was the use of buying negroes from the Spanish slave ships off the Cuban coast when, by seizing those ships, he could get the negroes for nothing? It was a clever idea and he at once put it into practice. He also seized vessels laden with other valuables, and altogether he prospered exceedingly.

Lafitte himself did not go in search of such prey. He was a business man, not a cheap sea rover. By this time he had a number of good ships and nearly one thousand men to send on his piratical errands. He had a fortified town and harbor of his own at Barataria and made that place his headquarters. Jean had marvelous control over his men, and, though he seldom troubled himself to fight, he was unconquerable. One night a band of mutineers attacked him in his cabin. Lafitte, single-handed, slew six of them and beat off the rest.

The pirates called Lafitte, behind his back, "The Old Man." To his face they called him "Boss" (meaning literally "prominence"). And thus the word "boss" came into our own language. He seldom spoke to his men except when he had to and held aloof from them.

By judicious bribes to the right authorities he managed to steer clear of active prosecution, though countless governmental threats were hurled at him.

When the British planned their attack on New Orleans in the War of 1812 they offered Jean Lafitte a captain's commission and $30,000 to join them with his men. Instead of accepting, he sent word of the offer (and of the British plot against New Orleans) to the American government, volunteering his services in exchange for a pardon. The British, in revenge, destroyed his Barataria stronghold and seized his ships. But the American general, Andrew Jackson (after cursing him for a "hellish bandit") accepted Lafitte's offer. And the pirate fought bravely for America in the battle of New Orleans, receiving a pardon for all past crimes.

After the war Lafitte went blithely back to his old ways. With his men he settled on an abandoned island, where now stands the city of Galveston, and made that place his new headquarters. Thus he was in a sense the real founder of Galveston. He hit on an odd way to sell his smuggled slaves. He would arrange for Colonel Bowie (inventor of the bowie knife) to seize them from him and to take them to New Orleans. There, as confiscated goods, they were placed on sale, and Lafitte and Bowie each reaped a goodly profit.

A visitor to the pirate lair wrote: "Gold pieces are as plentiful here as biscuits."

In 1820 the government captured Lafitte's Galveston camp and hanged many of his followers.

Agent's commission for this year is estimated at 8,000,000 tons.

OFFICEHOLDERS IN A QUANDARY

What Is Their Position in the Political Campaign?

WHERE DOES LOYALTY BELONG?

To Roosevelt, Who Appointed Them, or to Taft, Who Retained Them in Office?—Senator Cummins' Present Attitude Does Not Jibe With His Former Position.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Now arises a question of political ethics which develops into a problem. I refer to the position of federal officeholders who served under Roosevelt and were retained by Taft. What shall they do? Are the federal positions similar to those of olden times and to be filled only by those whose loyalty to the man in power is unquestioned?

Shall men in office who prefer Roosevelt to Taft get out, as did Herbert Knox Smith and Indian Commissioner Valentine, or shall they remain and draw their salaries and perform their duties?

These perplexing questions beset many men in office. Some of them are keeping very quiet.

Men Who Served Both.

Among the men who have served under both Roosevelt and Taft may be mentioned Secretary Stimson, who recently declared for Taft; Secretary Meyer, who has said very little; Frank Hitchcock, who has said nothing; Secretary Wilson, who is keeping very quiet; Comptroller Murray, who says nothing, and Collector Loeb of New York, who does not utter a whisper. Others could be named, but these are enough to show that the Taft-Roosevelt contest affected many besides the men who lead in the battle. Nearly all these men owed their advancement to Roosevelt. Stimson might be excepted, although even he would not have found favor had it not been for early boosts by Roosevelt.

To some of the men, Loeb and Hitchcock particularly, Taft owes more than he could pay with a federal office. Next to Roosevelt, Loeb did more than any one man to make Taft successful in his presidential campaign. It is not generally known, but it is a fact that Loeb prevented the attempt to stampede the convention of 1908 for Roosevelt. If he had simply winked to a few men it would have been all over. If he had kept Roosevelt from certain men it would have happened, and particularly if he had been willing to take things in his own hands he could have made the nomination of Roosevelt inevitable.

Hitchcock's Silent Role.

Friends of Postmaster General Hitchcock are pointing out the difference between now and four years ago. Not only did Hitchcock have charge of the preliminaries of the campaign, but he was chairman of the national committee after the nomination and the political manager of the administration until the advent of Charles D. Hilles as secretary to the president. Then Hitchcock gave way to new blood and new methods. It was Hilles who was at Chicago this year with his hand on the throttle all the time. Meanwhile Hitchcock is attending to business.

As a Matter of Curiosity.

Since Senator Cummins has declared for Roosevelt quite a number of persons have been curious to know just how he reconciles his position with his advocacy of a resolution to amend the constitution so as to limit the term of a man in the White House to six years and make him thereafter ineligible for the office. He is supporting a third term candidate in direct opposition to the strong reasons he gave for a six year term for president.

Recognized Color Line.

A good deal has been said about the promotion of Major Young, a colored man, to be a major in the army. John Lynch, another colored man, reached the rank of colonel in the pay corps. Lynch was a Mississippi politician, was once in congress and was temporary chairman of the Republican national convention in 1884. Both Lynch and Young have refrained from trying to cross the color line while in the army. They recognized that social distinctions could not be swept aside, and they held aloof from everything that could raise a race issue.

Jim Reed's Question.

A provision in the sundry civil appropriation bill provided for caretakers for monuments in the west. The word is a misnomer. What is meant are wonder spots of the continent which have been reserved, and caretakers are needed to prevent vandalism. Senator Reed of Missouri was worrying Chairman Warren of the appropriations committee somewhat over these monuments, and Warren explained: "One of them is a natural monument in Wyoming rising 1,000 feet perpendicularly, called Devil's tower. There is a large space on top for a garden. It had never been scaled until a lady some years ago on the 4th of July, having spent a month in investigating, getting spikes, etc., finally scaled it." "I should like to know if the fact that this lady scaled it makes it necessary to keep a salaried caretaker there?" asked Reed.

It takes an artist to draw a good hand in some poker games.

MORE FEATURES ANNOUNCED FOR COUNTY FAIR

The Licking County Pomona Grange will hold its annual reunion on October 2 and 3 at the Licking County Fair Ground. The first day of the reunion will be on All Governors Day at the County Fair. Mr. L. G. Spencer of the Ohio State Grange, chairman of the executive committee of the State Grange, will speak on Thursday afternoon at the County Fair, Oct. 2 and on the following day Mr. John Dorn, who is a state lecturer from the agricultural department having been assigned to the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, Hon. A. P. Smith, will speak at the fair ground.

The advertising committee is now endeavoring to arrange for a motorcade Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 2. The committee has offered to give prizes for the best motorcade in the movement to attract the best of the fair as a feature of the last three.

The committee was advised this morning that the Trades and Labor Assembly has decided to take out a body during the industrial parade on October 2. The Washington, D. C. plane will arrive on Monday so as to give trial flights Tuesday morning and to give two flights during the County Fair. The motorcade has been arranged for a carnival during the entire fair week and the carnival will be represented by the big industrial parade on Wednesday morning. The Orpheum theatre owns during the week and there will be plenty of attractions downtown as well as on the County Fair Grounds. A feature of the coming fair will be the big station exhibit made by the Experiment Station of Wooster.

What's the use of trying to fit square pins in round holes? Sometimes that is the reason we do not get the largest returns from our farms. We are growing the wrong crop or using the wrong method or the wrong rotation or sometimes it is simply the wrong variety. It may be that we are just planning the crop at the wrong time or putting in too much or not enough seed, if we are, we are simply wasting energy and splintering the pin. The Ohio Experiment Station has been studying varieties, rotations and methods and time and rate of seedling, etc. for more than a quarter of a century and the results of this experiment will help one to fit the pin. It is the purpose of the Experimental Station to make an exhibit at the coming Licking County Fair that will be of real value to the farmers of this county and the exhibit that will be given here next week will in itself justify the visit of every farmer in the county to the County Fair.

THE Y. W. C. A.

The question has been asked, Why do we need a Y. W. C. A.? There are 1700 young women in Newark who are wage earners, 500 of whom have already signed provisional membership cards. A Y. W. C. A. provides a place where our girls from all parts of the city may meet for pleasure and profit; a gymnasium in charge of a physical director where tired or frail bodies may be strengthened; classes for mental improvement where intermediate studies may be resumed, or stenography and bookkeeping acquired; classes for practical education in which cooking, sewing and millinery may be learned.

A Y. W. C. A. must be under the supervision of a trained secretary and is strictly a business proposition. The income from the active members, the various classes and the maintenance of the building should make it self-supporting.

All we need is the concerted effort of all of our citizens to give us a start, and our girls would have the advantages enjoyed by the Y. W. C. A. girls of other towns.

GRANVILLE TO HAVE A LYCEUM COURSE OF FIVE NUMBERS

Granville is to have a lyceum course this year under the management of Granville High School. A well balanced course of five numbers has been arranged, consisting of two musical numbers, one entertainment and two lectures. It has been the aim of the management to select a variety of talent with the aim of pleasing as large a number as possible.

The first number is the Hruby Bros. Quintette, one of the best instrumental musical companies in the country. They have appeared on most of the largest Chautauques of the country. They have given 100 concerts in Cleveland and 25 in Chicago. They are two sons of Frank Hruby, director of the famous Royal Hungarian Orchestra, and are natural born musicians.

The next number is the funny man—Burrhead—who can't help but make you laugh either when he is on or off the platform. His program is humor and impersonations. This is followed by the Stranier River Male Quartette in plantation songs, melodies, solos, instrumental accompaniments on stringed instruments, readings, etc. They are considered one of the best colored quartets in America.

The fourth number is a lecture "Uncrowned Kings" by W. T. Sherman Culp. It is an excellent effort to show who are kings in every day life, though they may not wear crowns. The last number is a humorous lecture delivered by the great orator, Hon. Aaron S. Watkins, now candidate for vice president. In it he shows the follies and foibles of people in their efforts to make life a success and points out many splendid lessons.

Granville High School offers this course with the hope of pleasing the people of Granville. Study the circulars and be ready to help boost.

A SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" Regulates Your Stomach and Ends Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; you head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eat and undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapiesin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and gets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CINCINNATI LIFTS BAN ON AUTOMOBILE HORNS.

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—The ordinance which for years has prevented motorists from using all kinds of signals except the hand-operated bulb horn has been repealed. The new law goes into effect today. This provides that all automobiles must be equipped with signals capable of producing a "sharp note, sufficiently loud to be heard under all conditions of traffic." It restricts their use to times of necessity. It is said that the change was made necessary by the increasing number of accidents.

ROBIN ROTS THINGS.
Robin is good for fiddle bows, but when it is put in a soap to give it weight and holds it together it gets into the clothes and rots them. It holds the dirt there, too. Get a good, clean, pure soap—get Easy Task Soap. It's made of coconut oil, borax, naphtha and clean tallow. And it takes the boiling and the rubbing and the all-day labor out of washing. And it doesn't make the hands red and sore and ugly. A cake costs only five cents; there's no economy in using the old-fashioned kinds.

BODY FOUND ON TRACK.
Lima, Sept. 23.—Terribly mangled, the body of Wm. Bergoff, 32, German laborer, at the state hospital was found early today on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad. Police believe that the man was murdered and the body placed on the tracks to cover up the crime.

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Attraction.
Lynman H. Howe's picture festival attracted a large audience at the Auditorium theatre Sunday evening. In spite of the inclement weather the house was comfortably filled. And those who braved the torments were well repaid, for a delightful entertainment of pictures was given.

The management announces that a return engagement, with an entire new set of pictures, will be played soon in the city and each visit tends but to intensify the interest in their appearance.

Freebies.
"Freebies," by Gene Stratton-Porter, the most widely read novel of the present decade, a million people have read it. It has been dramatized by Nell Twomey and will be seen in this city at the Auditorium Thursday, Sept. 26. It is under the personal direction of A. G. Damater, who is one of the most prominent producing managers of New York. He has given the play a sumptuous setting and has engaged a company of the best players.

In the dramatization of this novel, Mr. Twomey has followed the text faithfully. Reproducing every scene contained in the story. Not alone is it interesting, but sensibly dramatic. It is a pastoral play, beautiful in its simplicity, and in telling the adventures and love story of a homeless Irish lad in the west. The Limerlost swamps of Indiana, there is no other actor in modern fiction endowed with such simple nobility and wonderful sweetness. It is a greater play than it was a novel; there is nothing left to the imagination.

Dainty Mae LaPorte.
During the engagement of Mae LaPorte and her cover company at the Auditorium, which opens Monday, Sept. 30, she will present Miss Viola Allen's greatest success, "The White Sister," by F. Marion Crawford. This play was used by Miss Allen for two seasons and this is the last popular-price company in the Central States that has a right to produce it.

Louisiana Lou.
"Louisiana Lou" comes to the Auditorium Friday, Oct. 4. With book, music and production comes the original company from its just closed 356-performance season at the LaSalle opera house, Chicago, and its more recent two and a half weeks in San Francisco. In both cities it was the sensational success of the year and here it hopes to similarly entertain.

Barney Bernard and Sophie Tucker are at the head of the organization, the former coming back here with a reputation enhanced by his engagements with Ziegfeld. Adeline Genee, the big vaudeville houses throughout the country, and Miss Tucker returning as the acknowledged best woman today in musical comedy. There are a dozen other famous comedians and singers among the principals and a chorus of unusual excellence. Leo Merriman, the well known director of Chicago, personally comes with "Louisiana Lou" to lead the augmented orchestra.

F. V. BOYCE NEW MANAGER OF THE ORPHEUM THEATRE

Frederick V. Boyce, the well known theatrical producer of stock and repertoire productions, who has been making his headquarters in this city, has accepted the management of the Orpheum theatre in this city, which was tendered him by Mr. O. G. Murray, lessee of the handsome little Arcade theatre.

Manager Boyce states that the opening will probably occur Monday, Sept. 30, or just as soon as he can arrange for a number of special attractions which have not been previously shown here. The new manager brings to the Orpheum an experience of years in things theatrical, and having been a producer of plays, understands thoroughly the wants and desires of the theatre patrons. He is a young man of pleasing personality and no doubt will become quite popular with the Orpheum patrons. During the past season Mr. Boyce managed the well known amusement park, Indianapolis, at Columbus, and had one of the most successful seasons ever known at that popular park. His many friends will wish him success in his new managerial position.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Seyer, Famous London Chef.

SIMPLE SEASONING A MERIT.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Paper bag cooking conserves the natural juices and flavors of food stuffs and so requires but light seasoning.

Take the case of so-called melted butter. Ordinarily, a mixture of butter, flour and water, variously spiced and seasoned and cooked to a pasty consistency, it must give the stomachs that receive it a mighty wrestle. Melted butter, viscous and heavy, means overwork for it—potential dyspepsia. Far otherwise with real melted butter—butter pure and simple, mixed only with the salts and savors of food stuffs.

I wish you would try this sort of melted butter for either meats or vegetables. Put the butter in an enamel sauce pan with salt, pepper, paprika, the least sprinkle of fine herbs and a very little nutmeg. Add half the butter—bulk of boiling water, cook together for five minutes, stirring well, then put in either lemon juice, claret or sherry equal in quantity to the boiling water, and let stand over hot water until ready to serve.

Since omelets are possible to the paper bag, here follow directions for several sorts, each a little out of the common. All must be cooked alike—in a very well-buttered bag of proper size, set in a very hot oven at first, and the heat slackened a third or even a half, after three to five minutes.

Plain Omelet: This plain omelet can be the foundation of many other sorts. By doubling the egg contents and reducing the milk one-half, it becomes richer and lighter. But just as given it is fine for breakfast or luncheon. Begin by beating very light three eggs, white and yolks separate. Add to the yolks a tablespoonful of flour sifted with half a teaspoonful of baking powder and half as much salt. Melt a spoonful of butter in a pint of milk, beat it gradually into the egg and flour mixture—the milk must be hot, but not boiling—then fold in lightly the stiffly beaten whites, pour into your bag, seal, put on trivet and cook fifteen minutes.

Chicken or Ham Omelet: To turn this into chicken omelet, add a very little more flour to the mixture, then stir in well just before putting it in the bag a cup of cold chicken minced very fine and seasoned lightly with onion juice or minced celery. For ham omelet leave out half the flour and scant the allowance of salt and baking powder. Water can be used instead of milk—in that case, put in more melted butter. Mince or grind the cooked ham very fine and season it with onion-juice and the barest dusting of sugar, not enough to taste only to throw up the piquancy of the ham. Put in the minced ham before the beaten whites, mix lightly, put in a well buttered bag and bake fifteen minutes.

Spanish Omelet: Chop very fine a stalk of celery, a green pepper scalded in boiling salt water but not wilted, one very small onion, one large peeled tomato, with salt and pepper to taste and a bare dash of Worcester sauce. Mix well, put in a saucepan, and cook until tender in a little butter—say eight to ten minutes. The vegetables should only simmer. Make a six-egg omelet, but do not double the milk. Put in plenty of melted butter besides what the vegetables supply. Stir them in well before the beaten whites, put in the bag as quickly as possible after the whites are added, seal and bake fifteen to eighteen minutes.

CUTLETS AND CUTLETS.

By Nicolas Seyer, Chef of Brooke's Club, London.

Cutlets a la St. Cecile.—Take four lamb cutlets, from half a pint to a pint of parboiled peas and a pound of parboiled new potatoes. Grease two bags thickly. Put the peas and potatoes, together with one and a half ounces of butter, in one bag. Place on broiler and put in a moderately hot oven. Let them cook for twenty minutes before putting in the bag with the cutlets. Meanwhile trim the cutlets very neatly, free them from superfluous fat, flatten them with a wooden mallet and spread them on both sides with a layer of fine grass. Have ready some freshly fried bread crumbs. Sprinkle these lightly on each side of the cutlets. Take care not to overdo this. Place gently in a Daise bag. Fold, clip, place on broiler in the oven, and cook for twenty minutes. Dish up the peas and potatoes as a border. Put the cutlets in the middle. Pour their own gravy over them and serve at once.

Cutlets aux Navettes.—Take half a bunch of young French turnips, peel, and trim them as nearly as possible to one size. Dust them with salt and pepper. Take a pound and a half of mutton cutlets. Trim as above directed. Dust well with celery salt, a very little white pepper and some salted flour. Grease a bag well. Put in half the turnips, then the cutlets, then the rest of the turnips. Add half a pint of chicken stock, fold, clip, place on broiler and cook slowly for an hour and a half. Dish up on a hot dish, with the turnips as a border. Pour the sauce, which will be of a delicate creamy consistency and taste, over, and serve with asparagus, hand-separately.

Trusses Like These Are A Crime

Get Rid of Elastic Bands, Springs and Leg-Straps. Such Harness Has Forced Thousands to Undergo Dangerous Operations.

Trusses like those shown above—the belt and leg-strap, elastic and spring contraptions sold by druggists, surgical supply houses and many self-styled "Hernia Specialists"—make life miserable for everybody who wears them.

And—when drawn so tight you can scarcely stand to keep them on—they seldom do any good whatever.

Instead, they often do immense harm—they squeeze the rupture, often causing strangulation—dig into the pelvic bone in front—press against the sensitive spinal column at the back.

The Plain Truth Is This.
Rupture—as explained in our free book—can't be relieved or cured—can't even be kept from growing worse—unless constantly held in place. Just as a broken bone can't "knit" unless the parts are held securely together.

And—just as a bandage or splint is the only way a broken bone can be held—the right kind of truss is the only thing in the world that can keep a rupture from coming out.

What a difference it will make when you get that kind of truss!

And you can get exactly that kind of truss—without risking a cent of your money. It's the famous Cluette Truss or Cluette Automatic Massager.

Far more than a truss—far more than merely a device for holding the rupture in place.

So different from everything else for rupture that it has received 15 separate patents. Thousands say it is as comfortable as their clothing.

No belt, elastic belt or springs around your waist, and no leg-strap—nothing to pinch, chafe, squeeze or bind. Self-regulating, self-adjusting. It is held in position by radio—can't shift or slip—the only truss in existence that is honestly guaranteed to hold your rupture every minute of the day.

Sent on 60 Days' Trial to Prove It.

We have so much faith in the Cluette Truss—we have seen it work wonders for so many others—that we want to make one especially for your case and let you try it at our risk.

CHRIST DIED TO SAVE SINNERS

St. Paul's Gospel, Which He Was Not Ashamed to Preach.

AN INSPIRED STATEMENT.

Pastor Russell, in Montreal, Says That the Penalty of Sin Was Justly Imposed—The Redeemer is Yet to Be come the Great Deliverer of the World—Importance of Resurrection.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Montreal, Sept. 22.—Pastor Russell gave two addresses here today, one on "BEYOND THE GRAVE," the other on "St. Paul's Gospel."

America's Ubiquitous Preacher comes quite frequently to the Province, and the immense audiences that everywhere greet him are proof that the True Gospel which he preaches has to some extent found a responsive chord in thousands of Canadian hearts.

We report the Pastor's second address, which was from the text, "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you: how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day." (I Corinthians xv. 1-4.) So complete a statement of the Gospel in so few words is wonderful. Without inspiration St. Paul, like the rest of us, would have said more—would have said too much. Let us analyze the text and see what it contains.

First of all, it teaches that we are sinners and that our sins are beyond our own power to wash away or eradicate. This is a fundamental, important matter. Failure to realize that we are imperfect, born in sin, "shaped in iniquity," has hindered many from seeing the necessity for a Redeemer, and therefore from accepting Jesus as their Savior. To say that we are sinners implies a time when righteousness prevailed in our ancestry. We do not speak of brutes as sinners, because the Scriptures say that "sin is transgression of the Law," and God would not give a law to a brute, which could not comprehend that law. Similarly the perfection of our first parents was implied in this term, because God would not give a law to a being not sufficiently intelligent and capable of keeping that law. Thus this very simple statement, "We are sinners," implies the thought of a fall, just as the Bible declares.

"Christ Died For Our Sins." For Christ to die for our sins implies that our sins had a death-penalty attached to them. This again implies that at the time that death penalty was imposed it was a just one, because a just God would not punish unjustly. The justice of a death penalty implies a high degree of intelligence on the part of the sinner and that he was in a condition in which he would not have needed to die if he had not sinned.

This statement, "that Christ died for our sins," further implies that Christ was not of the fallen race, for had He been a sinner, how could He have died for sinners—how could His death have been of any profit or advantage to them? Thus our text teaches that Jesus was indeed "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world," that God sent His Only Begotten Son into the world that we might not perish but have everlasting life. The whole force and import of this text is that human salvation is secured by the death of Christ and His resurrection. Were we not sinners and dying we would have needed no one to die for us. Were it not to rescue us from sin and from death God would not have sent His Son.

The Death-Penalty Stated. Here let us notice the force of the word death in our text. It did not mean life in torment to our Redeemer, for the Scriptures bear clear testimony, not only that He died, but that He arose from the dead on the third day. And the Scriptures declare that He was not alive anywhere during those three days. This contradicts the thought of some who claim that He was the Heavenly Father Himself and could not die—that He merely got out of the body on the cross and let the body die and afterwards pretended that He had died, when He said, "I am He that liveth, and was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore."—Rev. I. 15.

We have a genuine Redeemer, a real Sacrifice, and the Redeemer is yet to become the Great Deliverer of the world, whose deliverance from death by resurrection cost the Redeemer His life. As by a man came death, by the Man Christ Jesus comes the resurrection of the dead; "for as all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive—every man in his own order."—I Corinthians xv. 21-23.

He Arose the Third Day. Great importance attaches to the fact that the One who died for our sins did not remain dead. He descended into Hell—Sheol, Hades, the tomb—but His soul was not left there, as the Scriptures declare. God the Father raised Him from the dead on the third day. The importance of Christ's resurrection is many-fold. It shows that He did not die a sinner, but, on the contrary, maintained His relationship with the Father—"Holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners." It shows that He kept the Law; otherwise He would have remained dead like the remainder of the Jews. More than this, the fact that He was raised from the dead to a higher nature, a spirit being, "partaker of the Divine nature," proves that His sacrificial death was very pleasing and acceptable in the Father's sight; hence His high reward. And all this proves that the Heavenly Father's great promise to Abraham is in process of fulfillment. Our Lord's resurrection to the plane of glory demonstrates to us the greatness of this Seed of Abraham, and His preparation for the great work foretold—the blessing of all the families of the earth.

From this viewpoint we see the importance of His death and of His resurrection, co-related. The death was necessary as man's Redemption price. His exaltation to power and great glory was necessary for man's deliverance from sin and death. Here we have, then, the Gospel which St. Paul received and which he, in turn, dispensed—the true Gospel of which he was not ashamed. As he wrote to the brethren at Rome, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth—to the Jew first and also to the Greek."

Gospel in a Nut-Shell. As a great oak may be said to be in an acorn, so the great Gospel Message may be said to be in our text, as St. Paul declares. Every time we look at it, it seems a little larger and a little more beautiful than before. We can almost see it grow—not that the Gospel is growing, for it is the same that God purposed in Himself before the foundation of the world. It is our appreciation of the Gospel that grows, in proportion as we grow in grace and in the knowledge of the Divine Plan and in the Spirit of our Lord; for without His Spirit, the Holy Spirit, to enlighten our understanding and to enable us to appreciate the testimonies of the Word, we would not be able to comprehend "the deep things of God."

How plainly the Apostle states this, saying, "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned; but God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit, for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."—I Cor. ii. 14, 10.

Pastor Russell's reputation for faithfulness to the Divine Word, his courage to speak the Truth in Love, and his power to hold vast audiences in rapt attention for hours has spread everywhere. Newspapers to the number of 1,500—in the States, in Great Britain and in the Dominion—which are publishing his sermons and also his comments on the International Sunday School Lessons are zealous in their support of his excellent services and are praying still more power to his voice and pen.

We have merely seen the root of the Gospel, continued Pastor Russell, as it centers in the promise made to Abraham and in the redemptive work accomplished by our Savior. In Romans xi. 16-24 St. Paul uses the illustration of an olive tree, and declares the branches of the tree to be the members of the Body of Christ, which is the Church. From these branches will come abundant fruitage by and by, of "olive oil" for the light of the World. St. Paul points out that the natural Israelites were the natural branches and that the Jews therefore had the first right, privilege and opportunity of becoming the members of the Body of Christ, the Church. As a matter of fact, all privilege and opportunity was excluded from the Gentiles until Israel's time of favor was complete—three and a half years after the cross.

During those years the Lord's providence so blessed the Jews that they were all brought in contact with the Truth under most favorable conditions. We remember that thousands were converted and blessed at Pentecost and other thousands a little later on. We may be sure that every worthy branch in that tree was accepted of the Lord—every "Israelite indeed in whom was no guile." St. Paul tells us that then the unbelieving Jews, the natural branches, were all broken off, separated from the Divine favor in which they had previously been. Then began the work of calling, preparing and engrafting Gentiles, whom the Apostle represents as of a wild olive tree.

This work of engrafting the Gentiles into the Jewish stock and making them fellow-heirs with the Jews of the original Divine promise made to Abraham has progressed for now nearly nineteen centuries. This is the same Gospel, because it all springs from the same gracious promise. It was "good tidings" when as a message it was given to Abraham. Its value was intensified when God waded out to its certainty of fulfillment. The fulfillment began in Jesus, continued through the Jewish disciples, and now has accumulated a considerable number of the Gentiles—probably the foreordained number is completed. When the Elect number shall have been tested and proven and shall have been accepted in the resurrection change and passed beyond the veil—then this most wonderful feature of the Gospel will have been accomplished.

Jewish Share of Gospel. The completion of Spiritual Israel will be followed by the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom and the beginning of the blessing of all the families of the earth. We are to distinguish here between the Church and the families of the earth, for the Church in their consecration and acceptance of the Lord and begetting of the Holy Spirit became members of the new nation. They are no longer humans. As St. Paul declares, "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you" (Romans viii. 9). The Church not only receives eternal life, but that life is on a higher plane—as spirit beings. They will be glory, honor and immortality, in joint-heirship with their Lord.

Amongst the families of the earth to be blessed by Messiah's Kingdom the first place will be given to Natural Israel. In all things the Jew was to have pre-eminence, for this is the Divine arrangement. As the Jew got the opportunity of becoming members of the Body of Christ before it was offered to the Gentiles, so Fleshly Israel will be the first nation to be granted the opportunities and blessings of Resurrection to human perfection under Messiah's Kingdom. Provision has already been made for this. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the Prophets of old have the testimony that they pleased God and that they are to have a better resurrection than the ordinary. They cannot be members of the Bride of Christ, nor sharers in the spiritual privileges and the Heavenly Kingdom. They lived before the High Calling, before the Heavenly Kingdom was opened. Jesus was the Captain, Leader and Fore-runner in this, and His joint-heirs all follow Him. None of them preceded Him.

"Princes in All the Earth." But the Messianic Kingdom, itself spiritual, will need earthly Representatives, and they are provided for in those Ancient Worthies. Their testing having been completed, they will be raised to perfect human beings, as Adam was in his perfection, and Jesus in His, while on earth. Their superior powers of mind and body will soon grasp all the wonderful things which Divine providence has arranged for since their day, and they will be quite masters of the situation. Naturally, perfect men will be Princes amongst imperfect ones. But these will hold the title from the Great Messiah. This is prophetically stated: "Instead of Thy fathers shalt be Thy children, whom Thou (Messiah) shalt make Princes in all the earth."—Psalm xiv. 16.

Assuredly the new order of things will appeal to the Jew first. His lessons under the Law will make him specially amenable to the new condition of things, for during that thousand years all mankind will be judged, not according to their faith entirely, but specially according to their works. Faith will be easy when knowledge will be so complete and so general. Good works will be gradually more and more possible as they shall be blessed and restored to perfection under the Kingdom arrangements.

The Scriptures intimate that the world at that time will be in a dejected condition. The great "Time of Trouble" with which Messiah's Kingdom will be inaugurated will cut a deep swath in earthly hopes and ambitions, and all nations will be in the condition to desire the Messianic Government, and then, "The desire of all nations shall come."—Hag. ii. 7.

"Come, Let Us Go Up." The Scriptures prophetically foretell that as the Divine blessings of Messiah's Kingdom go more and more to Israelites, other nations will take note of this and be inclined to entreat a share of the Divine favors, saying, "Come, let us go up to the mountain (Kingdom) of the Lord's house; He will teach us of His ways and we will walk in His paths." The whole world, every nation, people, kindred, tongue, needs just the blessings of healing and life eternal which the Messianic Kingdom is to offer them. And the terms will not be impossible, but quite the reverse. Messiah is to be, not only a Great King to rule, but also a Great Priest—and the Church with Him is promised to be a Royal Priesthood.

However, God will not accept any other nation than Israel. All of His blessings are to go to the Seed of Abraham. And as Abraham's Seed spiritual in the resurrection becomes "as the stars of heaven," so his seed natural will increase to fill the whole earth, and are compared to "the seed of the seashore." Nor will this be an arbitrary matter. It means the greatest good to all. Note that the first members of Spiritual Israel came from Natural Israel, and that the Gentiles were grafted in. Similarly the first fruits of the world will be Natural Israel, but all nations will have the privilege and opportunity of being engrafted into and becoming members of Israel—much after the same manner that people of all nationalities coming to American Canada may enjoy citizenship here under certain Covenant conditions. The New Covenant conditions inaugurated with Israel (Jer. xxxi. 31-34) will thus be open to all mankind, because all will be permitted to become members of Israel. Thus, as the Scriptures prophesy, Abraham eventually will be "a father of many nations."—Romans ix. 17.

Eventually, all the willing and obedient will be glad to enter into this New Covenant relationship with God through Christ and to be counted members of "the seed of Abraham." Eventually, all others will be destroyed in the Second Death, so that then all the earth will be blessed as Abraham's seed. Here we have the Gospel in its fullness, expanded from the original promise made to Abraham, and taking in all the features of Divine grace and mercy and eventual blessing in the most wonderful blessings possible for the human mind to imagine! And all this centers in the work of Jesus, in His death for our sins and in His resurrection for our deliverance and the execution of the Gospel Program. Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift! Hallelujah, what a Gospel! Hallelujah, what a Savior! Hallelujah, what a God!

REV. B. M. O'BOYLAN ANSWERS SERMON OF PASTOR RUSSELL

Editor Newark Advocate:—Pastor Russell, whose sermons are distributed by a syndicate for the sake of dollars like all charlatans, writes and says a good many pleasant things to please "itching ears" and soothe troubled minds. Like the old Roman dramatist he has learned the art of throwing dust into the eyes to deceive his simple readers, and like Plautus—the flat foot—to tramp upon truth. He knows that there are multitudes who love to be humbugged with religious claptrap and who are satisfied when they can wrap their troubled heads in the folds of a doctrine woven from the threads of Sacred Scripture by one who poses as an apostle of truth and ambles in the toga of a disciple of the Galilean. Certainly there are no professions in which we have so many unscrupulous quacks as in religion and medicine and all attempts to restrain their frauds have so far proven a failure.

The medical charlatans have been able to baffle every legal attempt to stop their nefarious traffic, because they are among the chief supporters of the advertising columns; but the religious charlatan and fair must never be interfered with because every man claims the right to follow what he claims to be the dictates of his conscience. These dictates may come from God or Satan, Christ or Mahomed, Jew, atheist or infidel.

A liberty-loving people must be satisfied, however, with this state of things, so long as it does not interfere with their freedom and the laws of the government under which they live. The Divine Founder of Christianity taught us by word and example to be patient and long-suffering and to "pray for those who persecute and calumniate us, that we may be like the children of our Father who is in Heaven; who maketh the sun to shine upon the good and bad; but those whom He has appointed to guard His truth should not remain silent when His truth is assailed but rather should they rebuke, condemn, instruct and convert those who are in error."

It would be a waste of time to follow Pastor Russell in his varied misrepresentations of Divine Truth as revealed in the Sacred Scriptures, and therefore I will confine myself to a few of his recent utterances to prove that he is not only a false teacher and an unsafe guide but also a dishonest and reckless prevaricator.

In his sermon on "Our Sacrifice," published in the Daily Advocate of the 3rd inst., after stating very nicely the subject of his theme founded on the text taken from Hebrews x:12-14, he proceeds to give an account of the Sacrifice of the Mass. Had he been an honest man he would have consulted some of the many learned Catholic or High Church scholars whom he could easily have found in London where he delivered his discourse. Or, if he feared to meet any of those learned men, he could have gone to any book store and obtained a catechism or some work on that subject that would have set him right. Instead of doing this, however, he preferred to publish his own sacrilegious opinions and send them broadcast over the English-speaking world wherever his vanity could get a newspaper to purchase and print them. Having falsely stated the Catholic doctrine on the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass he proceeds, like every other calumniator that ever lived, to attack his calumny with all the malice of the cunning mountebank and to hold it up for the contempt and horror of his hearers and readers, illustrating also the bastard product of his perverted mind by quotations from the prophecy of Daniel.

Further on, to cap the climax and clinch his argument he enters into the history of the institution of the Sacrifice of the New Law quoting what he wishes his dupes to believe to be the exact words of Christ, and having distorted their correct textual reading and changed their meaning to suit his own taste, he triumphantly exclaims: "How strange that we should have overlooked this so long!"

Stranger still is the lamentable fact that in this enlightened age and in the greatest city of the world there should be so many blockheads. Pastor Russell knows well that he could not dare to speak such rot and ignorance before an enlightened audience. When he asserted that the Mass began in the fourth century he knew that there were scholars in London from Oxford and Cambridge who could have shown him works in Latin and Greek written by the Christian Fathers back almost to the time of St. John wherein the true doctrine pertaining to the sacrifice of the Mass could be found in all its fullness. But that would not suit Mr. Russell's mission.

A self-appointed, sentimental, selfish and unscrupulous preacher whose sole object is to make money by deceiving the people could not afford to investigate and tell the truth. He has satisfied himself in another sermon that there is no hell for the wicked and why should he bother himself about the true meaning of Christ's words? He knows he has created for himself an audience that likes to be humbugged and that the moment he deceives them he seals his own doom as a preacher. With his Bible under his arm and God who will not punish the wicked he can say what he likes. He knows that paper will not refuse him nor a fool his folly.

Nevertheless a day of reckoning is coming to all, when every man shall have to stand before the judgment seat of an all-holy and just God, who will render to every man according to his works. In conclusion, if any one wishes to read what Catholics believe and teach on the One Sacrifice I shall be glad to supply them with the matter, or I would refer them to works which they can find in our Public Library, especially the Catholic Encyclopedia.

To a scholar Pastor Russell exhibits his utter ignorance of hermeneutic and shows himself to be a puerile exegete. So long as he confined his thoughts to his own peculiar views of religion no one should have reason to find fault; but to attack and abuse a doctrine which is the very life of the Church of Christ and which is to that church in the spiritual order what the sun is to the material universe was something that should not go unchallenged.

The Sacrifice of the Mass followed by the Real Presence of our Lord in the Eucharist is the fountain of all spiritual life, the source of all grace and the centre of immaculate truth. In it are to be found the fulfillment of the figurative sacrifices of the Old Testament and of the prophecy of Malachi: "For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my Name a clean oblation." Every basilica and chapel built since the time of Christ bears witness to this fact.

The Catacombs of Rome for three hundred years prior to the Fourth century as well as the altars scattered east and west from Jerusalem to Andalusia were witnesses to the fact which Mr. Russell so flippantly thrusts aside. I could fill a volume with the testimonies of the Fathers who wrote from the time of Inouaneus and Justin in the Second century down to the Fourth century of the Christian era to prove that the concept which the Catholic church now has of the Sacrifice of the Mass is precisely what it was in those early ages.

Thanking the Daily Advocate for giving me space to correct the prevails of Pastor Russell and assuring all concerned that I am ready to meet and refute any false accusations that gentleman may publish in the future, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
B. M. O'BOYLAN.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy
For All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty cent bottle of Weych's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

PRIZES

To Be Given Away at the Moose Fall Festival.

One of the big features of the carnival which is to be held here under the auspices of the local Order of Moose during Fair week will be the popularity contests, which are being arranged for that occasion and which will consist of a series of contests which will be open to residents of Newark only. The prizes, which are of a wide and varied nature, will be awarded to those securing the largest number of votes, and will include prizes for the most popular young lady, the most popular school-girl, the homeliest man in town, the most popular schoolboy, the prettiest baby, and a prize for the queen of the carnival.

The winners will be selected by the people and the prizes will be given to those who have the largest number of votes registered in their favor. G. H. Coleman, who is here in the capacity of promoter for the Moose, will take charge of the contest and will furnish all further information concerning the manner in which they will be handled.

The prizes, which are being supplied by Fuchs Bros., are already here and have been placed on exhibition in the show windows. The headquarters of the carnival committee are at Moose Hall, where all and any further information can be obtained.

COMMUNICATED

The thirty-fourth annual reunion of the 76th regiment, O. V. I., will be remembered as one of the best reunions ever held. The attendance was large, the day was fine and everybody seemed to be happy. Both campfire and reunion were successful and we wish to thank all who aided in making them such.

The address of Dr. Sparks at both campfire and reunion were very instructive and entertaining. The quartet furnished fine music. Little Paul Preston and drum and Miss Bessie Lynn and doll were highly appreciated.

Company B, Old Guard, have our thanks for leading in the march around the square. We are grateful for the many comrades who visited us and shared in the exercise of the day.

GRAND JURY WILL RESUME ITS SESSIONS

Will Renew Taking Testimony Tuesday—News of the Licking County Courts.

The grand jury, which adjourned Friday afternoon, will resume the taking of testimony Tuesday morning.

A. G. Wreth vs. William E. Swartz, leave given to make Annie E. Motherspaugh party defendant, with leave to file answer and cross petition in 10 days.

Kirk vs. Kirk, an action for divorce and alimony, in which suit the B. & O. is garnished. Leave was given the railroad company to answer by Oct. 5.

Samuel F. Moore vs. Allen B. Gregg et al., heretofore submitted to the court upon a motion to require defendants who file answer and cross petition to give security for costs. Motion to give security for costs overruled.

W. F. Smith vs. Jacob Lang, a petition in error from the judgment of a justice of the peace, a proceeding in aid of execution; judgment of justice of the peace reversed and case remanded to that court.

A. L. Rawlings vs. Lucy Seidler, a suit in attachment before justice of the peace in Washington township; motion to strike out portions of answer sustained in part and overruled in part.

Mary E. Moore vs. Grace F. Kennedy et al., motion to second amended petition overruled; leave to answer in 30 days.

George D. Dicken vs. B. & O. R. Co., a suit for damages growing out of three horses being struck and killed by a train of defendant company; motion to petition sustained in part and overruled in part.

Ira Thorp vs. F. J. Harrington, a suit brought for the reformation of a contract of mortgage given upon an automobile, it being claimed that the mortgage was given upon a different automobile than the one intended. Motion and demurrer overruled; leave to answer in 30 days.

Advance Glass Co. vs. A. Nelson Dodd, receiver, etc., a suit to reform a contract of sale of certain lands in this city, the basis of the suit being that the contract should have provided that interest was not to be payable on deferred payments; motion to strike out certain portions of the petition sustained in part and overruled in part.

Divorce Petition.
Eva M. Howlett has filed a petition in probate court praying that she be divorced from Damon C. Hewlett. The petition recites that the parties were married in 1904, and that shortly after the wedding the husband left for parts unknown. Gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are the grounds on which the petition is based. Smythe & Smythe are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Marriage License.

BAR ASSOCIATION

Will Confer Regarding Certain Rules Proposed for Government of Court of Appeals.

At a meeting of the Bar Association on Monday morning, Carl Norpell, Edward Kibler and A. A. Stasel were appointed a committee to confer and report to the association on Wednesday morning as to the sentiment of the bar regarding certain rules proposed for the government of the court of appeals, which was instituted by the late amendment to the constitution of Ohio.

HORSE STEALING CHARGE PLACED AGAINST HANLON

Peter Hanlon, who claims Toledo as his place of residence, was arrested Sunday night on the serious charge of horse stealing. An affidavit filed Monday charged Hanlon with appropriating the horse of S. F. Moore without the consent of Mr. Moore. Hanlon admitted taking the horse, but denied that he had any intention of stealing the animal, alleging that he merely took a short ride. He was given a hearing before Mayor Swartz and was held to the grand jury under $200 bond. He was committed to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

WAR ON RACE TRACK GAMBLING

Baltimore, Sept. 22.—Upon the request of Governor Goldsborough to the Baltimore police board, fifty uniformed policemen were detailed to go to the Harve D. Grace race course this afternoon and by direction of the governor, act under instructions of the sheriff of Harford county, aiding the sheriff in making arrests of the bookmakers violating the gambling laws of the state. Governor Goldsborough also instructed state's attorney Siffer of Harford county to have the sheriff at the track to direct police operations.

It's all right to look out for number one, but many a man has lost his sight that way.

NINE ARRESTS FOR VIOLATION OF SUNDAY LAW

Sunday was wet. Perhaps Newark people in general noticed this fact. It was wet in more ways than one. Police activities during the day revealed the fact that there was a big business done by saloonists in various parts of the city.

Arrests during the day for violation of various saloon ordinances and statutes totaled up nine, and Mayor Swartz was busy Monday afternoon, hearing the pleas of the defendants.

Those arrested and the charges placed against them are as follows: James Fitzsimmons, First and Canal streets, keeping open.

L. J. Bolton, Franklin and First streets, keeping open.

Frank O'Neill, Sunday selling.

Robert Folliard, Sixth and Wilson streets, keeping open.

George Johnson, West Main street, keeping open, allowing tipping and loafing.

Ora Denny, Sunday selling.

Henry Fresher, Sunday selling.

Howard Rathbun, South Park Place, allowing tipping and loafing.

All the defendants were ordered to appear before Mayor Swartz Monday afternoon. Pleas will be entered and dates set for the hearing.

THREE B. & O. CARS JUMPED INTO THE KOKOSING RIVER

The freight wreck on the Lake Erie division of the B. & O. at five o'clock Saturday morning which was mentioned in Saturday's Advocate, was caused by the dropping of a draw bar. On Saturday only meager reports of the accident could be obtained, but later news states that several cars took the ditch, flung up the traffic until nearly noon. Four of the cars hung on the embankment of the Kokosing river, but three took the water. A quantity of sacked salt and chopped feed was ruined by the water. In their career the cars broke off several telegraph poles, smashed some small buildings and cut a gas main squarely in two.

The wreck occurred just south of the depot platform at Fredericktown. It was the cause of several hours delay in traffic, several trains being blocked. East bound passenger train due in Mt. Vernon at 7:10 o'clock and west bound trains due at 8:30 and 8:57 o'clock were held until nearly 12 o'clock before the track could be cleared by the Newark wrecking crew, which was called on the scene.

Several rods of track were torn up by the dragging trucks, but the roadbed was not damaged to such an

WILL START WORK WRECKING THE OLD THOMAS BUILDINGS

Contract was entered into this morning by H. L. Montgomery for the Licking Light & Power Co., and J. S. Dudley and Samuel L. Cripps, for the wrecking of the old buildings on the James E. Thomas foundry site. This property was purchased several weeks ago by the local lighting company. It will be the location of the new power plant for the company, which will be constructed this winter and next spring.

The contract for the removal of the buildings stipulates that the work will be completed by Oct. 21. About that time the work of erecting the new structures will begin.

Two of the better buildings now standing on the property will be left. They will be repaired and used in connection with the new structures.

NEWARK DRUGGIST DESERVES PRAISE

R. F. Collins Druggist, 27 Hudson avenue, deserves praise from Newark people for introducing here the simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture known as Adler-Ka. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis and it has now been discovered that A SINGLE DOSE removes sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. It is the only remedy which never fails.
